WILL GET DOWN TO ACTUAL WORK

Republicans Will Hold First Meetings
Tomorrow to Elect Delegates
For Many Conventions.

BIG MEETING FOR CARTHAGE

Rushville Township Call is Rather Confusing—City Names Its Delegates Alone.

The Republicans of Rush county will get down to actual work Friday when the first of the township meetings to select delegates to the county, councilmanic, state and congressional conventions will be selected and in several of the townships the tickets will be named.

Ripley township is planning for a big meeting tomorrow afternoon at the Bundy block in Carthage when they will select the township ticket. P. J. Lynch, of Newcastle, Republican district chairman, will attend this meeting and is booked for a speech. John McCordle of Indianapolis, former state tax commissioner and a well known grain dealer, will also make an address. Mr. McCordle's talk will be especially interesting to the women and a record crowd is expected. The convention will be called to order at one-thirty o'clock.

The Republicans of Noble township will also meet tomorrow afternoon, and besides selecting delegates to the various conventions, will name their township ticket. The meeting will be held in the New Salem school house at two o'clock.

The township tickets will also be named in Jackson, and Union townships tomorrow. The Jackson township meeting will be held at seven-thirty o'clock Friday night in the Kenning school house. The Union township meeting will be held at one o'clock at the Stringtown school.

The big meeting of the day will be held here at seven-thirty o'clock Friday night. The Republicans of the city will meet and name two delegates to the state and congressional conventions. The delegates to the county convention will be named by wards. The call for the Rushville township meetings is somewhat confusing. The city is entitled to two delegates to the state and congressional conventions, while the outside township is entitled to one delegate to each of the conventions.

The two delegates to the state convention will be named tomorrow night by the entire convention and the county delegates will be named by the ward meetings. The first ward is entitled to 24 delegates to the county convention, the second ward 18 and the third ward 28. The meeting will be held in the sheriff's office in the court house. Because of the telephone meeting, it was impossible to secure the assembly room.

The Republicans of the entire township will meet in the assembly room Saturday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock for the purpose of selecting the township ticket. Following this meeting those living in the township outside of the city will meet and select one delegate each to the state and congressional convention. After this is done they will meet by precincts and select delegates to the county convention. The outside township is entitled to thirty-one delegates as follows: No. 1, one delegate; No. 5, six; No. 6, five; No. 7, six; No. 8, twelve, and No. 9, one.

On Saturday the Walker and Richland township tickets will be named, and the other townships will select delegates to the various conventions.

TO STRIKE BACK AT CRITICS

Wilson to Prosecute Newspapers
Under Publicity Law.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 9.—Plans of the Wilson administration to strike back in the campaign waged against the President by several newspapers in the tolls exemption fight were indicated today by Congressman Barnhart of Indiana, author of the newspaper publicity law. Following a conference with the postmaster-general, he said prosecutions under the new law were contemplated on the ground that paid advertisements not labeled as such had been printed in many newspapers.

WILL ENFORCE LAW AS TO STRAY STOCK

Oliver M. Siler, Trustee of Jackson
Township, Will Post Notices Calling Attention to Statute.

STRAYS WILL BE TAKEN UP

At least one trustee in Rush county will enforce the law in regard to stray live stock on the public high ways. Oliver M. Siler, trustee of Jackson township, will, in a few days, post notices throughout the township calling attention to the law and pointing out that any stock found running at large on any of the highways of Jackson township will be taken up as stray and sold to pay the cost of the same unless the owner pays the bill.

The action in Jackson township is one that would be wise for every trustee to adopt. Such enforcement of the law would not only protect the stock but also the lives of automobilists who drive by night so much in the spring and summer months. Very frequently there are serious accidents from autos running into stock along the public highway. Motor car owners have often complained of the practice that is so common with farmers.

MAY LOSE SIGHT OF HIS LEFT EYE

Wilbur Hansell of Near Milroy Suffers
Severe Injury While Driving
Nail in Board.

PENETRATES IRIS OF HIS EYE

Wilbur Hansell, who is employed by rank McCorkle on his farm, three-quarters of a mile east of Milroy, may lose the sight of his left eye as the result of an accident yesterday afternoon. He was driving a nail in a board when he struck it a glancing blow and the nail was driven out and stuck in his eye.

Ed Poole took Mr. Hansell to Indianapolis last night with the intention of consulting Dr. W. F. Hughes, an eye specialist, concerning his injury. He was treated temporarily by Dr. Kennedy of Milroy. The nail stuck in the iris of his eye and it was greatly feared that he would never see out of it again.

REHEARSAL OF FUED IN TRIALS

Kuhn-Ebbing Trouble Arises Again
When Three Participants Are Fined in Manila Court.

ALL CHARGED WITH PROVOKE

Ben Ebbing, in Addition, is Acquitted of Charge of Drawing Deadly Weapon on Roy Fuchs.

The Ebbing-Kuhn feud was rehearsed again yesterday afternoon in a trial before Squire Smart at Manila when Ben Ebbing of Orange township was freed by a jury of twelve men of a charge of drawing a deadly weapon on Roy Fuchs of Shelby county, and when August Ebbing, Walter and Andrew Kuhn each were assessed a fine of a dollar and costs by the squire for provoke.

The cases of provoke date back to December 5 of last year when Walter Kuhn, the guardian of August Ebbing's two girls, and August Ebbing quarreled over the custody of the children.

The provoke charges against Walter and Andrew Kuhn were filed by Ben Ebbing, a brother of August's, and on a plea of guilty, they were each fined. The same kind of a charge against August Ebbing was brought by Walter Kuhn. He, too, entered a plea of guilty and was fined.

Since that trouble occurred, the guardianship matter has been settled in the circuit court here. Michael Kney was appointed guardian of the property interests of the two girls and the father was made guardian of their person.

However, it seems that the oldest daughter, Anna Ebbing, was at the home of Walter Kuhn last Saturday night when Roy Fuchs called for her and they started in a buggy to Blue Ridge.

According to the story as brought out at the trial they had not proceeded far when they were met in the road by the Ebbing brothers. Ben turned a flashlight on them and held the horse until the girl left the buggy and proceeded home with her papa. Then Ben released the hold on the animal and Roy was allowed to continue his journey alone.

The boy asserted that Ben flashed a revolver as well as a light, but the Ebbing brothers and Anna testified there was no gun in the incident except one owned by the prosecuting witness, which was lying harmless in the buggy at the time and which he had fired just a few moments before the buggy was stopped by the Ebbing brothers.

Prosecuting Attorney Donald Smith of this city represented the state in all of the proceedings and A. L. Gary of this city was attorney for the Kuhn brothers.

WILL HAVE A CLEAN-UP WEEK

Richmond Will Receive Its Annual Scrubbing in May This Year.

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., April 3.—This city will receive its annual scrubbing this spring in the first week in May, which has been set aside as cleaning week. Richmond will have a "sample square" which will be graded, sodded, and planted with trees. The idea is to make a model square of it and to keep it in the best condition as an example to the citizens.

NEED WOOLENS EASTER PARADE

Local Forecast Says Warmer Friday,
But Rumors Are Ice Blast From Alaska is on the Way.

WILL ARRIVE BY NEXT SUNDAY

Farmers Are Discouraged by Continued Delay Because Few Have Turned a Furrow.

The prospects for an Easter parade in woolens, muff and winter duds are very good. The local forecast for Indiana today is warmer Friday, but the United States weather department at Washington dashes the fond hopes of the Easter paraders with the announcement that a cold wave is coming down off the ice fields of Alaska to spoil the balmy Easter that was in prospect.

Unprecedented in a decade is the temperature that has prevailed here the last few days. The lowest mark of the spring month was established this morning when a temperature of sixteen degrees above zero was registered by several thermometers. Twenty above was the lowest temperature of the month up to this morning.

The sun returned joyfully to earth today after its prolonged spring vacation and spread its glad some rays all about, but it had little effect on the mercury which has become unfriendly to the sun during its long sojourn abroad.

The continued cold weather at this season of the year is not without its serious aspect for the farmer. No crops are being damaged by the succession of freezes, but the cold weather is delaying spring farm work so that all of the crops will be late.

Ordinarily farmers have opportunity to do a little spring plowing in February and March, but this year there has been no let-up of the cold weather long enough to permit the farmers to do any plowing at all. Several farmers have had all arrangements complete to plow, and then the weather suddenly changed and made it impossible. Any number of farmers have not turned a furrow.

Ordinarily at this time such freezes as have occurred the last few nights would have damaged the fruit and spring garden truck, but not many garden vegetables have been planted and the fruit is very backward. Fruit growers are not expecting a very large crop this year anyway because last year's crop was so bountiful.

Before the extreme cold, it was the rain that delayed the farmers. The ground was soaked with water before the freeze, and when the thaw comes again, farmers will suffer another delay. This is especially damaging to the prospective oats crop because if it is not sowed at the proper time, the crop is no good.

DEMURRER HEARD IN COURT

Argument in Moses Vandenberg Case Taken Up Today.

Judge Megee heard the argument on a demurrer this afternoon in the case of the Kokomo Trust company against Moses Vandenberg in which $7,000 is asked on notes. The case was sent to this county on a change of venue from Henry county. Several attorneys were here today on the case and Judge Megee is anxious to close the issues that the case may be tried.

ARGUE WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Two Men Quarrel and Meyer Henagow is Shot Through Heart.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, April 9.—The murder victim shot at a red light cafe was today identified as Meyer Henagow. The police were searching for James Franchise, known as "Duffy the Goat," scion of a wealthy family, but a frequenter of the tenderloin. He will be charged with murder. The two men were said to have quarreled over the merits of woman suffrage. Henagow was found at midnight with a bullet through his heart.

AGED MAN STOOD TOO CLOSE TO FIRE

Henry Hall's Trousers Blazed Before he Knew it and His Left Leg Was Severely Burned.

INJURY MAY PROVE SERIOUS

Henry Hall, 85 years old, was painfully burned yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers, north of this city. The aged man was alone in the sitting room of the Myers home and got too close to the stove. His trousers caught on fire and his left leg was badly burned from the hip to the ankle. He called for help and it so happened that Mr. Myers and two sons were in the house. The blaze was easily extinguished but not until after the flesh had been burned to a blister. Mr. Hall is very feeble and did not realize that he was too close to the stove until his trousers were on fire. He is an uncle of Mrs. Myers. Because of his advanced age the burns may prove serious.

WOMEN HOLD STAGE IN ROBERTS TRAIL

Two Testify Today to Alleged Irregularities in Terre Haute Primaries Being Investigated.

ONE SAW POLL BOOK TORN UP

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.—Women were star witnesses today in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, charged with election frauds. Goldie Wade, chief of a sporting house, was questioned concerning names registered from her place.

"There aren't any men living in my house," she said, "and I don't know the names registered from there." Several men's names appeared on the books as coming from Goldie's five-room bungalow which is at 300 North Third street.

Mrs. Bertha Akers, a woman watcher at precinct No. 8, first ward, election day, said she saw men enter the rear door of the voting place and climb under the ropes.

"I also saw a poll book stolen and torn to pieces," she said.

CONVENTION HERE.

Connersville Examiner: Progressive Chairman Roberts, of the Sixth district, was in this city yesterday afternoon and at a meeting held at the McFarlan hotel, which was attended by the various county chairmen of the district, it was decided to hold the progressive district congressional convention at Rushville, May 2.

RACE BETWEEN TWO TIGHTENS

Contest For B. F. McFarlan's Seat on Telephone Directorate Increases Interest in Meeting.

DR. W. S. COLEMAN'S POSITION

Says he is Not Making the Race as Opposed to W. T. Jackson Because it is Not an Issue.

Dr. W. S. Coleman, candidate for Ben F. McFarlan's seat on the board of directors of the Rushville Co-Operative Telephone company, flatly denied today that he was making the race as opposed to the present secretary-manager, W. T. Jackson. His candidacy, he says, is not being waged against the present management, but is merely an effort to become a director in place of Mr. McFarlan.

Dr. Coleman explained that a wrong impression had been gained by the intimation that in case of his election, Mr. Jackson might be ousted as secretary and manager. He declared that this question did not enter into the contest in the remotest measure.

Dr. Coleman said today that he had the promise of the votes of many friends of the present secretary-manager and that he feared if the impression was broadcast that he was opposing the re-election of Mr. Jackson to the office he now holds, they might be antagonized.

The annual election will be held tomorrow night in the court house assembly room when four directors will be elected. They contribute a majority of the board. R. F. Seudder, J. M. Amos, W. A. Jones and Mr. McFarlan, the members whose terms expire, are all candidates for re-election. There is no opposition to any of them, with the exception of the candidacy of Dr. Coleman who seeks Mr. McFarlan's seat.

Proxies are figuring in the contest as the friends of both the candidates in the race are gathering them in. The attendance at the meeting promises to be large because interest in the meeting has been increased by the race for one of the directorships.

There are nearly 228,000 pleasure cars, nearly 180,000 motorcycles and more than 18,000 commercial motor vehicles registered in the United Kingdom.

Small Hats This Season

Fashion has swung back again to the small hat. There are many other radical changes in millinery styles this spring.

Just turn to the advertising columns in The Daily Republican and notice the interesting stores they are telling from day to day.

Fashions come and go as fast as the scenes of a motion picture.

The stores are ever alert to follow and proclaim the fashion-changes—and the advertising is the voice of the stores.

To keep up-to-date on the fashions this season one must be a reader of advertising.

Every line of it is news of great interest and importance.

When the Worm Turned.
Recently a man omitted to hand his tailor a few chunks of silver in exchange for good togs, and after waiting a reasonable length of time the tailor party sued for the amount of the bill.

Thus it was that he found himself on the witness stand one day with the insistent lawyer for defendant trying to establish the point that his client had three months in which to pay for the goods and that that time had scarcely elapsed.

"Now, sir, Mr. Tailor Man," mercifully continued the lawyer, "had I bought those clothes instead of my client, would you have summoned me into court at this early stage?"

"No, sir," was the prompt rejoinder of the witness.
"Good!" smiled the lawyer, with a satisfied air. "And why not, please?"

"Because," came the answer of the tailor, "in your case it would have been a cash transaction."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Persia's Sorrowful Tree.

There is a tree in Persia to which the name "the sorrowful tree" is given, perhaps because it blossoms only in the evening. When the first star appears in the heavens the first bud of the sorrowful tree opens and as the shades of night advance and the stars thickly stud the sky the buds continue gradually opening until the whole tree looks like one immense white flower. On the approach of dawn, when the brilliancy of the stars gradually fades in the light of day, the sorrowful tree closes its flowers and ere the sun is fully risen not a single blossom is visible. A sheet of flower dust as white as snow covers the ground around the foot of the tree, which seems blighted and withered during the day, while, however, it is actively preparing for the next nocturnal festival. The fragrance of the blossoms is like that of the evening primrose.

For Husbands.

A clergyman took down a small volume.

"This is called," he said, "the 'Instructions of Ptah-ho-Tep.' It is one of the very oldest papyrus writings known. It gives, among other things, advice to husbands, and that advice is as good today as it ever was. Listen."

And he read:

"If thou be wise furnish thy house well.

"Woo thy wife ever and never quarrel with her.

"Nourish her daintily.

"Deck her out, for fine dress is her greatest delight.

"Feed her upon sweets.

"Perfume her.

"Make her glad with praise.

"Adorn her with jewels, feathers and the skins of beasts as sumptuously as thy purse will suffer."

PUPILS OF HIGH SCHOOL TO ENTER

Class For Students to Exhibit is Arranged For Annual Purdue Egg Show to be Held in May.

SCOPE OF WORK ENLARGED

New Feature Determined on Because of Introduction of Study of Scientific Agriculture.

The Sixth Annual Purdue Egg Show, held at Purdue University on the 6th, 7th and 8th of May, will possess a new feature that has been lacking in all previous exhibits. On account of the increased interest in scientific agriculture and the institution of agricultural courses in the high schools of Indiana, the committee in charge of the Purdue Egg Show has decided to enlarge the scope of work and open a class for the entries of high school pupils.

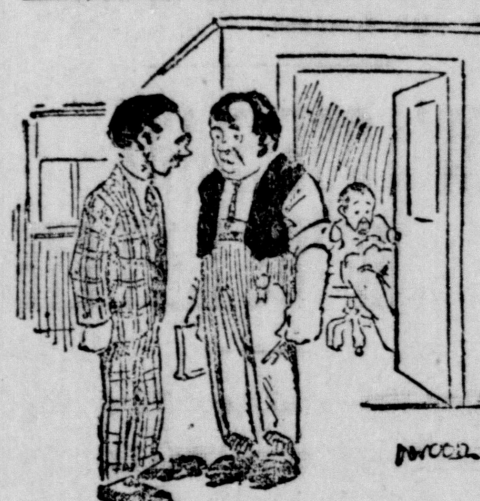

The purpose of extending the work into the high schools is to encourage the pupils in the study of scientific agriculture, to teach them to appreciate and advocate a better grade of market eggs, and to interest them in what is going on at Purdue University.

Attractive premiums will be offered in this class for both brown and white eggs. For the best dozen brown and the best dozen white eggs cash prizes of $3 will be given. For the second best dozen in each color a cash premium of $1 will be awarded. For the third best dozen in each color a year's subscription to the Purdue Agriculturist will be given. Besides these prizes there will be a grand sweepstakes premium, consisting of the gorgeous Purdue Extension Department trophy, awarded to the high school represented by the best dozen eggs, either color. The cup shall remain on display in the winning school for a period of one year, at the end of which time it shall be returned to the University to be entered in next year's show.

Present indications show that there will be a great interest shown by the high schools of the state, and the trophy hotly contested for.

Anyone wishing further information on the Purdue Egg Show can obtain same by writing to the Secretary, Purdue Egg Show, West Lafayette, Indiana.

FROM "THE IMPERSONATOR."

"THE IMPERSONATOR." Edison special release for April 10, is a drama of life in Washington adapted from the well known novel by Mary Imray Taylor. It is in three parts and produced in Washington and at the Edison studio under the direction of Charles J. Brabin. A dramatic moment from the photo play is here pictured.

"The Better Way." (Selig. Two reels.) The pathetic but old story of the ruin of a happy marriage through the demon drink. The scenes are all very good, especially those in the woods, and the one of the escaping deer is exceptionally realistic.

"On the Altar of Patriotism." (Pathe. Two reels.) Clear photography, clever acting and good settings combine to make this story, dealing with the secret service of a military government, of interest.

LILLIAN DREW.

Lillian Drew is a talented member of the Essanay company of photo play producers. She appeared in "Luck in Odd Numbers," which you may have seen or may still see.

Edward R. G. R. Evans, commander of H. M. S. President in the English navy, who was the second in command of the Captain Robert F. Scott south pole expedition, was caught giving an autographed portrait of himself to Miss Norma Phillips, the heroine of "Our Mutual Girl" series. He will be seen in the coming chapter of this great Mutual movie serial.

After weeks of publicity "Samson," the great six reel production of the Universal company, is at last ready for the market. Never has a picture been more widely heralded than this. It has been advertised from coast to coast as the greatest effort of its kind, and it need not be added that the moving picture trade and patrons have looked forward to its first showing.

Scenario writers will be interested to learn that the American Film Manufacturing company of Chicago is on the qui vive for scenarios adapted for comedies and light dramas for use in the "Beauty" films.

Irving Cummings, one of the most popular leading men on the screen today, will soon be seen again in Mutual movies. Mr. Cummings, who has a large personal following among the photo play "fans," is now under a long term contract with the Thanhouser Film corporation.

Society News

The K. of P.'s will give a dance tonight at their hall in West Second street. There will be one more dance this spring. Music will be furnished tonight by Douglass of Indianapolis.

Frank Dishinger was pleasantly surprised last night at his home 626 West Ninth street, the event being his 51st birthday anniversary. Thirty-two friends and relatives were present, and the surprise was complete. A sociable evening was spent. Refreshments were served.

Amusements

The Princess will show a Lubin drama "The Pale of Prejudice" for the first picture tonight. Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby are featured. It is said to be a fine drama. The second is a Vitagraph comedy entitled "The Lucky Elopement." In this one Anita Stewart and Ralph Ince are featured. The last is a comedy "A Stage Door Flirtation." Tomorrow night the two reel feature "Treasures on Earth" will be shown.

A Literal Straw Stack

The straws continue to show the trend toward the Republican party. They are so numerous these days that it is almost impossible to chronicle all of them.

In the recent primaries in Allen county, Ind., the Republicans outvoted the progressives by three and four to one in all of the precincts of the county. The total vote on judge of the superior court shows a total of 696 ballots for the Republican candidates and 164 votes for the Progressive. This total is better than four to one in favor of the Republicans.

In Pennsylvania in November, 1912 Roosevelt received 447,246 votes, Taft 273,305 votes and Wilson 395,619 votes.

Pennsylvania has just completed her registration for this campaign. Of those registering 430,000 declared themselves republicans, 420,000 enrolled as democrats, and 180,000 registered as progressives. This under the lashing of big newspapers in Philadelphia and Pittsburg still adhering to the bull moose cause, and under the stress of conditions which make it harder for the republican party in Pennsylvania than in some other states.

In other words at the last election the republicans cast 22 percent of the votes the bull moosers 36 percent, and the democrats 32 percent. While in 1914 the enrollment shows that less than 20 per cent of the voters are bull moosers, more than 40 per cent are republicans and a little less than 40 per cent are democrats.

A recent conference of the Progressives of Michigan was a rank failure as many other state conferences have been. Both United Press and Associated Press dispatches said there were only a hundred present. This does not look very encouraging when it is considered that Col Roosevelt carried Michigan in 1912.

Although only a hundred present, there was a factional quarrel and a threatened disruption of the meeting. A resolution requesting the New York progressives to nominate Col. Roosevelt for governor this year, presented by the Colonel's attorney is the famous Ishpeming trial, caused "an hour of heated wrangling," after which the resolution was withdrawn.

In North Dakota a recent statewide conference of bull moose partisans, addressed by Gifford Pinchot, was the same kind of a frost, and immediately thereafter sixty thousand voters participated in the republican primaries more votes than have, on the average, been cast by the republicans at the general elections in that state during the last ten years. In that primary, Senator Coe I. Crawford, who put over the stunt of printing the Roosevelt electors on the republican ballot in North Dakota in 1912, was defeated for renomination by 10,000 plurality.

The Indianapolis Star presents a very weak defense for the Progressive party in commenting on the loss of Mayor Batchelor of Marion who renounced his allegiance to the party this week and announced his return to the Republican party. The Star curtly disposes of such incidents by stoutly asserting that the gentleman in question never belonged to the Progressive party anyway. So might it be said of all the Republicans who went to the Progressive party in 1912. They never were Republicans. But that's not the case. They were Republicans and the majority of them are coming back to the Republican party. And there's the rub.

The Land of Beginning Again.

By Louise Fletcher Tarkington.
I wish that there were some wonderful place
Called the Land of Beginning Again,
Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches
And all our poor selfish grief
Could be dropped, like a shabby old coat, at the door
And never put on again.

I wish we could come on it all unaware,
Like the hunter who finds a lost trail;
And I wish that the one whom our blindness had done
The greatest injustice of all
Could be at the gates, like an old friend that waits
For the comrade he's gladdest to hail.

We would find all the things we intended to do
But forgot, and remembered—too late,
Little praises unspoken, little promises broken
And all of the thousand and one
Little duties neglected that might have perfected
The day for one less fortunate.

It wouldn't be possible not to be kind
In the Land of Beginning Again;
And the ones we misjudged and the ones we grudged
Their moments of victory here
Would find in the grasp of our loving handclasp
More than penitent lips could explain.

For what had been hardest we'd know had been best,
And what had seemed loss would be gain;
For there isn't a sting that will not take wing
When we've faced it and laughed it away;
And I think that the laughter is most what we're after
In the Land of Beginning Again.

So I wish that there were some wonderful place
Called the Land of Beginning Again,
Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches
And all our poor selfish grief
Could be dropped like a shabby old coat, at the door,
And never put on again.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About THAT ARGENTINE CORN.

(Columbus Republican.)

The Chicago market report for April 6 says there were offerings that day of Argentine corn all along the coast from the St. Lawrence to Texas, and yet, despite that fact, the market turned strong because of an apparent shortage of corn for immediate use by interior states. Every day the importation of the Argentine product has to be considered from a new angle. And remember one thing, always—every bushel imported displaces one grown by an American farmer on American soil and it matters not especially what it does to the market.

POSSE WORKS ON MURDER THEORY

Governor Dunne Refuses to Call Out Militia to Search For Body of "Dry" Leader Who's Missing.

LAST WORKED IN ELECTION

(By United Press.)

Springfield, Ill., April 9.—After a conference with the adjutant-general, Governor Dunne today told Illinois anti-saloon league leaders that he could not order out a company of state militia to search for Louis Patmont, "dry" worker who disappeared under mysterious circumstances near Danville while engaged in the city local option campaign.

The Governor could find no precedent for the action. The sheriff and a posse today began a search for ponds and swamps near Danville, working on a murder theory.

RUSSIAN HONEYMOON.

(By United Press.)

Earlham, Ind., April 2.—Miss Agnes Kelly, daughter of President Robert L. Kenny of Earlham College, has the prospect of a honeymoon in St. Petersburg, Russia. Roderick Scott, a missionary there, and the fiancée of Miss Kelly, is on his way home. They will be married in August and will return to Russia in September. Miss Kelly studied English under Prof. Scott while he was connected with Earlham College.

BIG LOVE FEAST IS ON IN CHICAGO

Five Thousand People Expected to Attend Republican Hamilton
Club Meeting Here Tonight

MANY NOTABLES TO TALK

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—The biggest feast of middle western Republicans since the convention in 1912 when Theodore Roosevelt hurled his denunciation at certain elements in the party will be held at the Medinah Temple tonight, under the auspices of the Hamilton club. Fully five thousand persons are expected to join in the "harmony feast."

This day was chosen because it is the anniversary of the battle of Appomattox, although those in charge of the affair scorn the insinuation that there is any relation historically or otherwise in selecting the date. In fact men who lead the Bull Moose circles are in the majority on the banquet committee which is in charge of the arrangements. Edwin W. Sims, Alex Fyfe and Frank J. Sute, Roosevelt men, and George W. Dixon and Joseph H. Barnett Republicans, comprise the committee.

The speakers will be Senator Albert Cummins of Iowa, Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, Congressman Simon D. Fees of Ohio, Congressman James Manahan of Minnesota, and Charles L. Whitman of New York.

The Illinois Republican delegation at Washington and Republican state and city officials have been invited as special guests.

FEDERAL VICTORY AT TAMPICO RUMOR

One Dispatch Says Rebels Are Routed and Others Say Fighting is Still in Progress.

LARGE OIL TANKS ABLAZE

(By United Press.)

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 9.—Reports of a sweeping Federal victory at Tampico were received today by General Mass here, but a wireless from Rear Admiral Mayo declared the battle was still in progress. Shells are bursting in towns. dispatches say. Many huge oil reservoirs are ablaze.

During the night British and American admirals conferred as to the advisability of taking refugees aboard the ships, but decided such action was not yet necessary.

BUICK---1914

There are some motor cars that sell for less money than Buicks. But they cost more.

There's a model for everybody in the 1914 Buick line. Everything is left side drive and center control.

The B-36 roadster is the pepperyest four cylinder car you ever drove, and it has all the style that makes the people you pass take that second look. The B-37 on the same chassis has caused a bigger sensation than any other four cylinder car brought out by any concern in the past few years.

We guarantee that the Buick six-cylinder car with five passengers will tour over ordinary roads on not to exceed one gallon of gasoline consumption to every fifteen miles traveled, and frequent actual road tests have assured us that it is possible to get as high as twenty miles per gallon.

RUSHVILLE BOY GETS INTO GAME

C. S. Lee Not to Hold Regular Berth in Federal, But he's Assistant Business Manager.

OF THE INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

Former Editor of Republican is Enthusiastic About Outlaw Organization Which he Represents.

President J. Edward Krause and Business Manager W. H. Watkins of the Indianapolis Federal League Club last night announced the appointment of Clifford S. Lee, a well-known Indianapolis newspaper man, as assistant business manager and publicity director, says the Indianapolis Star today. Mr. Lee entered upon his duties today. He will join Manager "Whoa Bill's" team in St. Louis next Wednesday and will remain with it throughout the season, traveling over the entire circuit.

Mr. Lee came to Indianapolis several years ago from Rushville, where he was editor of the Rushville Republican, taking a position on The Indianapolis Star as reporter. He resigned as political writer for The Star in 1911 to devote his energies to publicity work. For two years he was retained by the Indiana Manufacturers' and Shippers' Association as publicity director and assistant secretary. His earlier newspaper experience consisted in writing sporting news.

"There is no question," said Mr. Lee last night, "but that the Federal League has come to stay. I am very enthusiastic over its prospects. Indianapolis will have a team this year of which it may well feel proud and our park will compare with the best. From what I have already learned, I am confident Indianapolis fans will see a brand of ball in the Federal League this year such as this city has not witnessed in many years.

"Just as soon as I get my hand in we will tell the Indianapolis fans more about the Federal League and the club which has been picked to represent Indianapolis. We want them to know all about us.

"Publicity in connection with a baseball park is an innovation, in a sense, but we are sure it will prove as adaptable to a ball club as it has to all other lines of endeavor to which it is now such a necessary adjunct.

"In establishing this department we are endeavoring to make it easy for the newspapers to get accurate information. I shall be glad to help the newspaper men in any way I can."

GAME SUNDAY HAS BEEN CANCELED

Condition of Grounds Will Prevent Contest With Indianapolis Team.

Opener April 19—

DATES WITH NEWCASTLE

The practice game scheduled with the Blue Valley team of Indianapolis for Sunday has been called off. The grounds were under water yesterday and it would be impossible to get them in shape for play by Sunday. The fans will not have an opportunity to see the team in action until the following Sunday when the season will be opened with the Navy Recruiting team of Indianapolis.

Manager Fisher booked two games and has a date for a third game if it is necessary. Newcastle will play here July 12, and the Arcadians will play there August 2. If a third game is necessary it will be played August 16. While in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon Manager Fisher ordered his supplies for the season.

The Arcadians will appear at Washington park, Indianapolis this year, meeting the Indianapolis Reserves. The Reserves management promised Fisher a date there and that team will play here. The date for the game there cannot be given until it is learned when the two Indianapolis league teams will not play at home.

MAYLAND BERTH IN LEAGUE

Newcastle is Likely to Lose Ray Brubaker.

Ray Brubaker, the crack short stop of the Newcastle team last year, will get a tryout with the Middleboro club of the Appalachian League, which is training at Richmond. Brubaker has talked it over with L. S. Draper, manager of the Middleboro team and will report at Richmond April 20 when the team begins its spring training. Brubaker did not sign a contract but will do so if he can land the berth. Brubaker will go ahead against four other candidates for jobs at the heavy infield position. Brubaker wants to be sure of a job before he signs as he does not want to be released to a smaller league and then likely to be farmed.

Will Figure As Defenders of America

Two American pilots who figure prominently in the nightmares of Europeans in the next Indianapolis sweepstakes races are Spencer Wishart and Eddie Pullen, drivers of Mercer cars, seen above to the left and right respectively. This pair is counted among the foremost gasoline heroes of the age, the former having raced ever since he was a youth, and the latter capturing the Grand Prize at Santa Monica recently as his debut, with an average of 77.2 miles an hour.

Chatterton's Suicide.
Thomas Chatterton, the poet, was a phenomenal boy. He wrote some remarkable verse for one of his age. He was born in Bristol, England, on Nov. 20, 1752. He went to London to better his opportunities for employment. He did not succeed and lost heart. He became very poor and sometimes for days was compelled to go with little or no food. On Aug. 24 Mrs. Angel, the woman from whom he rented a room, knowing that during three days he had eaten nothing, invited him to dinner. He was offended at her expressions, which seemed to hint that he was not hungry. Withdrawing into his garret at nightfall on the same day and quietly locking himself in death came to him before daybreak on Aug. 25, 1770. When, on his continued nonappearance in the morning, the attic door was broken open it was found from the contents of a nearly empty phial still grasped in his hand that he had died from the effects of arsenic.

Relation of City and Country.
With us cities are as certain to spring up with the increase of country population as the forests are to disappear. City and country are organically related. Crops cannot be grown without fields nor exchanged and manufactured under the modern system of division of labor without cities. Only in the rudest pioneer settlements do men dispense with this division of labor by doing everything painfully and badly on the farm. Such settlements are retarded and hampered until they have towns for the city part of the work. When we estimate that the average inhabitant of New York may have but a few score square feet for his own use we are apt to forget that he can only exist on them because somewhere in the country there are acres of ground producing for him, as really and definitely for him as if he owned them and hired the labor on them, what Professor Penck has called his "sustenance space."—Atlantic.

Beauty Fashions.
In the days of Roman supremacy the women tinted their eyebrows with black in emulation of "ox eyed Venus." They painted their faces, sprinkled themselves with perfumes and even wore false hair or tinted their own locks in accordance with the prevailing fashion.

The Greek ladies of the same period employed maids who rubbed out their mistress' wrinkles, "decorated" her face with red and white paint and darkened her eyebrows. It was then also the fashion to coat the face with white of egg and goose grease to protect it from the sun and wind. It is even said that they had a recipe for turning blue eyes to black.

These fashions all had their origin in Italy, where in later years the notorious Lucrezia Borgia is said to have dyed her hair different colors, according to her fancy of the moment.

The Republican Company has a limited supply of pencil scratch tablets, 4x7, 100 sheets to pad, they will close out at 3 for 5c or 7 for 10c.

TAKES NO NERVE TO FIGHT REPEAL

Senator Lodge Says we Incur no Physical Danger by Refusing to Exempt Coastwise Ships.

DEFENDS PRESIDENT WILSON

But Marvels at Coolness With Which We Have Kept Murder of 50 Americans in Mexico.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 9.—Comparing the outbursts of those who have been opposing the "surrender" of canal rights to ajax defying lightning that did not exist, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the "scholar of the senate," this afternoon eloquently pleaded for support for President Wilson's repeal plan.

The Republican solon said he could not deal in a partisan political spirit with treaty question. He told of opposing a number of Republican presidents on treaties, and of supporting Cleveland.

"But Cleveland's policy in regard to Venezuela involved serious issues and grave possibilities," he said. "It was not mere posturing and declamation against another, imperting no danger and adapted only to raise the temperature around our polling booths."

"There is no particular courage required to insist upon the passing of our own ships through the canal without payment of tolls," the Bay State senator declared. "We incur no physical danger in doing so, and to hurl defiance at the rest of the world under these conditions is no doubt a very agreeable pastime to those who engage in it, more especially as it has the added attraction of being a perfectly safe amusement, but it seems not wholly satisfying as an argument.

"The attitude of ajax defying the lightning is not a very inspiring one if there is no lightning to be feared. The outcry about exhibiting subservieny to Great Britain or any other country because we see fit to repeal the tolls seems to be hardly worthy of serious consideration. The United States is altogether too great and too powerful to be subservient to any one.

"As I have listened to some recent stirring declarations of our readiness to face a world in arms, in defense of tolls exemptions, about which noble cause no country would think of fighting, there have been moments when I have marveled as I thought of the coolness and indifference with which we have kept the murder of more than fifty Americans not many miles from our own border. The violated rights, the unavenged, the almost unnoticed deaths of those innocent people have seemed to make heroes about canal tolls where there is no peril to any one particularly out of place.

"We obtained by the passage of the toll exemption clause no legal rights which we did not already possess; we waive none by its repeal. All we have to retain, for the law is merely our own statute for the regulation of the terms upon which the canal shall be used."

Lodge took the position that the tolls exemption, either for coastwise or foreign trading ships, would not be violation of the treaties in a strict legal sense. He pointed out that from the high pinnacle of international esteem reached this country in 1909, the United States had become distrusted, due to a number of reasons. He urged that this distrust would be further aggravated by doing a thing "so useless as subsidize a class of ships which did not need a subsidy."

CULLOP LOSES BY SEVEN VOTES

Democratic Representative From Second District Defeated in Primary For Nomination.

UNOFFICIAL COUNT IS MADE

Dissatisfaction With Congressman in Monroe County One Thing Contributing to His Defeat.

(By United Press.)

Vincennes, Ind., April 9.—The nomination of Charles Hunt of Sullivan for Democratic representative from the second district was believed this afternoon to be assured as the result of complete unofficial tabulation of the vote from yesterday's primary.

His majority over W. A. Cullop is believed to be seven votes. The official vote may make some changes but it is thought to be correct. Hunt received 8,288 votes, to 8,281 for Cullop.

The tabulation by counties is as follows: Green county, Hunt 1,243 Cullop 1,399; Martin, Hunt 496, Cullop 765; Morgan, Hunt 793, Cullop 732; Owen, Hunt 661, Cullop 508; Sullivan, Hunt 2,069, Cullop 807; Daviess, Hunt 1,069, Cullop 970; Monroe, Hunt 958, Cullop 1,102; Knox, Hunt 1,089, Cullop 2,098.

Several factors are mentioned as being responsible for Cullop's defeat. Chief among them is the very light vote in Morgan county and dissatisfaction with Cullop in Monroe county.

John Horace of Bloomington, who wanted the postoffice but was turned down for Oscar Cravens, was chairman in Monroe county and his following tore down his lead. A majority for Cullop was announced by his manager in Monroe county after the result in Knox and Daviess counties was known.

REBELS DESTROY BIG OIL PROPERTY

Report Received by State Department Today Says Loss of Half Million is Suffered.

SITUATION COMPLICATED

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 9.—The complete destruction by the Mexican Rebels of the Water Pierce Oil company's property at Tampico at a loss of half a million dollars was reported to the state department here today.

The department said: "Wireless reports indicate that the situation at Tampico as regards foreign properties is complicated and serious. The Waters-Pierce oil refinery has been occupied by the attacking forces during the last two days and was burned with a loss of $500,000."

Testing Silk.

The best way to test silk is to cut off a small piece and burn it. If it burns out quickly, leaving a clear, crisp, gray ash, the silk is pure, but if it smolders and leaves a heavy reddish brown ash it has been treated with chemicals and will not wear well.—Exchange.

Works Both Ways.

"They bore one, these society calls, don't you know," declared the young lady. "They bore one."

"Sometimes they bore two," responded the young man, taking the hint and likewise his departure.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Queering a Prediction.

"When you are as old as I am, my son, you will know more and talk less than you do now."

"But, dad, everybody says I take after mother."—Chicago Record-Herald.

STATE LEADS IN Y.M.C.A. GROWTH

Indiana is Well Ahead of the Average in North America as Shown by Statistics.

GAINS 2000 IN YEAR 1913

Association Has Property Valued at Over Two Million Dollars—Report is Submitted.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—That Indiana is well ahead of the average in North America in the growth of its Young Men's Christian Association is indicated by statistics contained in the pamphlet reviewing the forty-fourth year. The pamphlet is still on the press. The figures are for the last decade. Indiana has in that time gained 144 per cent. in paid membership, while the gain in North America has been 71 per cent. The largest gain has been in enrollment in educational classes. Indiana has gained 793 per cent. as against 148 per cent. for the average association.

The increase during the year 1913 has been steady and healthful, according to the state officials. In membership the gain has been over 2,000. In the last ten years the gain has been over 200 per cent. In active members the gain has been over 1,000 in the past year. The valuation of association buildings and other real estate has increased from $1,905,270 in 1912 to $2,360,171 in 1913.

One of the interesting features shown is the increase in dormitory rooms for members. The number has grown from 475 to 744 in the past year. This gain is largely a result of the dormitory annex built to the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. The beds of the railroad association alone were used 60,336 times in 1913. An indication of the number of meals served is seen in the recorded number of 683,159.

A unique contract is seen in the northern part of the state. Fort Wayne, with over 64,000 population, has no association, while Auburn in the adjoining county north with something over 4,000 is preparing within the next week to move into a new building just finished. This Auburn building is the pioneer plant in Indiana in a city under 7,000. It is considered a sort of experiment. In the report of the executive committee it is stated that "the world will watch the development of the Auburn association with keen interest" because the city is so small.

The report continues: "The dedication of this building will be the fifth during the first few months of 1914—a record unequalled in Indiana and doubtless in all other states."

"The only serious debt in our 27 Indiana Buildings, the report states, "has been at Lafayette. An insufficient amount of money was raised at the beginning of the city Association building enterprise, and the shrinkage of subscriptions, plus the accumulation of interest, brought the total building indebtedness at the close of 1912 up to $40,000. In November the very life of the association was threatened by the foreclosure of the principal mortgage. In consultation with the Lafayette directors, we arranged with the Evansville Association for the release of their general secretary, Mr. Mogge, to conduct a "white elephant" campaign in April, but the floods forced a postponement until June. In one of the hardest-fought campaigns in our history, a total of $51,000 was raised to cover the indebtedness and to provide for current expenses during the payment of subscriptions, thus freeing this association from a career of unprecedented usefulness and also heartening the Christian forces of the entire city. We assisted further in completing the strongest staff of executive officers that Lafayette has ever had." J. M. Davis is the general secretary.

The report congratulates the Indianapolis association on the dedication of its colored department building. This department has led the world for several years in membership, which now is 735. It has the following to say about the Muncie building.

"Well-posted Association visitors to the new Muncie building, now near completion, believe it will easily lead the world in cities of 30,000 and under. Governor Ralston made the principal address at the corner-stone-laying Memorial Day. Mention was made in our last report of the additional contribution of $50,000 by the Ball Brothers, their gifts thus reaching $150,000 making a total fund of over a quarter-million."

Crawfordsville will soon have a new building. There will be a supplemental campaign there in January, 1914 to raise $15,000 yet necessary to complete the building. This will bring the total resources up nearly to $100,000.

The state organization holds out no encouragement to a community that is not ready to provide a substantial fund at the start. It will not approve the remodeling of a business block at the expense of from $10,000 to $15,000, but insists that the first requirement of an association building shall be that it be ready for the whole range of activities. Six lines of expenses must be provided for. They are: lot, building (including income-producing features), architects fees, furnishings, shrinkage of subscriptions and the customary preliminary campaign. For this equipment and expense, from $75,000 to $100,000 is usually necessary, the report says.

And concerning Huntington the report says:

"For more than two years the Commercial Association at Huntington has led in urging us to organize a Young Men's Christian Association there but no initial offers were large enough to warrant launching a movement in rented quarters. Scarcely more than a few weeks passed before they appealed to us again, and we have helped them secure an experienced Association secretary to develop their organization into a regular Young Men's Christian Association, hoping that within a year or two a building project will mature."

MAYOR BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

Jos Bell Says Man Who Doesn't is Lost in Address to Advertising Club

VALUABLE BECAUSE OF NEWS

Every Phase of Industry is Considered By Speakers at Annual Meeting In Indianapolis

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, April 9.—"The man who doesn't advertise is the man who is lost," said Mayor Joseph E. Bell, of Indianapolis, speaking to the delegates to the convention of the Central Division of the Association Advertising Clubs of America and their guests at the Claypool hotel. The mayor was one of the speakers welcoming the convention to Indianapolis. He took occasion to say what he thought of the value of advertising. The central division includes Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio.

"Advertising is valuable because it is news," he said. "Many people buy a newspaper just to read the want ad columns or to see what the merchants have in stock. Everyone who wants to buy goes to the newspaper as naturally as the thirsty man goes to a well. It is a well of information."

The mayor said the advertisers not only were an aid to the buyers but that they furnished a liberal education as well. They tell one half of the world what the other half is doing, he said. He said that the public owes the advertisers for its newspapers and magazines, because they are supported by the advertising rather than by the subscription department.

Probably 500 delegate and visitors were here today. Many business men or their advertising managers, not members of the association, attended to get the opinions of famous leaders in this field who are to attend the national executive committee meeting here Friday and Saturday. Among these on national committee to be here are Wm Woodhead, president, from San Francisco, and Samuel C. Dobbs of the Coca Cola company.

Every phase of the advertising industry will be considered by the various speakers.

CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Copyright, 1913, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER V.

MR. REYNOLDS did not come home to dinner at all. The water had got into the basement at the store, he telephoned, one of the flood gates in a sewer having leaked, and they were moving some of the departments to an upper floor. I had expected to have him in the house that evening, and now I was left alone again.

But, as it happened, I was not alone. Mr. Graves, one of the city detectives, came at half past six and went carefully over the Ladleys' room. I showed him the towel and the slipper and the broken knife and where we had found the knife blade. He was very noncommittal and left in a half hour, taking the articles with him in a newspaper.

At 7 the doorbell rang. I went down as far as I could on the staircase, and I saw a boat outside the door, with the boatman and a woman in it. I called to them to bring the boat back along the hall, and I had a queer feeling that it might be Mrs. Ladley and that I'd been making a fool of myself all day for nothing. But it was not Mrs. Ladley.

"Is this No. 42?" asked the woman, as the boat came back.

"Yes."

"Does Mr. Ladley live here?"

"Yes. But he is not here now."

"Are you Mrs. Pittock?"

"Pitman, yes."

The boat bumped against the stairs, and the woman got out. She was as tall as Mrs. Ladley, and when I saw her in the light from the upper hall I knew her instantly. It was Temple Hope, the leading woman from the Liberty theater.

"I would like to talk to you, Mrs. Pitman," she said. "Where can we go?"

I led the way back to my room, and when she had followed me in she turned and shut the door.

"Now, then," she said without any preliminary, "where is Jennie Brice?"

"I don't know, Miss Hope," I answered.

We looked at each other for a minute, and each of us saw what the other suspected.

"He has killed her!" she exclaimed. "She was afraid he would do it, and— he has."

"Killed her and thrown her into the river," I said. "That's what I think, and he'll go free at that. It seems there isn't any murder when there isn't any corpse."

"Nonsense! If he has done that the river will give her up eventually."

"The river doesn't always give them up," I retorted. "Not in flood time, anyhow. Or when they are found it is months later, and you can't prove anything."

She had only a little time, being due at the theater soon, but she sat down and told me the story she told after ward on the stand:

She had known Jennie Brice for years, they having been together in the chorus as long before as Nady.

"She was married then to a fellow on the vaudeville circuit," Miss Hope said. "He left her about that time, and she took up with Ladley. I don't think they were ever married."

"What?" I said, jumping to my feet, "and they came to a respectable house like this! There's never been a breath of scandal about this house, Miss Hope, and if it comes out I'm ruined."

If You Suffer Any Stomach Agony

Take Mi-o-na—Now—Perfectly Harmless but Acts Quickly and Effectively

When you feel nervous, blue, irritable, tired, dizzy—when you have headaches, sour stomach, heart burn and pains in the colon and the bowels—you are suffering from indigestion—you need Mi-o-na at once.

Mi-o-na is not a cure-all but a specific for stomach ills. It builds up and strengthens the stomach walls and glands, improves quickly the digestive system and assists nature to properly digest and assimilate the food thus insuring good health.

Do not suffer another day. Get a fifty cent box of Mi-o-na Tablets from F. B. Johnson & Co. Keep them with you constantly—they will help you get well and strong and immediate relief is sure. If not benefited Mi-o-na costs nothing.

"Well, perhaps they were married," she said. "Anyhow, they were always quarreling. And when he wasn't playing it was worse. She used to come to my hotel and cry her eyes out."

"I knew you were friends," I said. "Almost the last thing she said to me was about the black and white dress of hers you were to borrow for the piece this week."

"Black and white dress! I borrow one of Jennie Brice's dresses!" exclaimed Miss Hope. "I should think not. I have plenty of my own."

That puzzled me, for she had said it, that was sure. And then I remembered that I had not seen the dress in the room that day, and I went to look for it. It was gone. I came back and told Miss Hope.

"A black and white dress! Did it have a red collar?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Then I remember it. She wore a small black hat with a red quill with that dress. You might look for the hat."

She followed me back to the room and stood in the doorway while I searched. The hat was gone, too.

"Perhaps, after all, he's telling the truth," she said thoughtfully. "Her fur coat isn't in the closet, is it?"

It was gone. It is strange that all day I had never thought of looking over her clothes and seeing what was missing. I hadn't known all she had, of course, but I had seen her all winter in her fur coat and admired it. It was a striped fur, brown and gray, and very unusual. But with the coat missing and a dress and hat gone, it began to look as if I had been making a fool of myself and stirring up a tempest in a teacup. Miss Hope was as puzzled as I was.

"Anyhow if he didn't kill her," she said, "it isn't because he did not want to. Only last week she had hysterics in my dressing room and said he had threatened to poison her. It was all Mr. Bronson, the business manager, and I could do to quiet her."

She looked at her watch and exclaimed that she was late and would have to hurry. I saw her down to her boat. The river had been falling rapidly for the last hour or two, and I heard the boat scrape as it went over the door sill. I did not know whether to be glad that the water was going down, and I could live like a Christian again or to be sorry for fear of what we might find in the mud that was always left.

"Peter!" I said. "Poor old Peter!"

Peter was lying where I had put him, on a folded blanket laid in a clothes basket. I went back to him and sat down beside the basket.

"Peter!" I said. "Poor old Peter! Who did this to you? Who hurt you?" He looked at me and whined, as if he wanted to tell me if only he could.

"Was it Mr. Ladley?" I asked. And the poor thing covered close to his bed and shivered. I wondered if it had been he and if it had why he had come back. Perhaps he had remembered the towel. Perhaps he would come again and spend the night there. I was like Peter. I cowered and shivered at the very thought.

At 9 o'clock I heard a boat at the door. It had stuck there, and its occupant was scolding furiously at the boatman. Soon after I heard splashing, and I knew that whoever it was was wading back to the stairs through the foot and a half or so of water still in the hall. I ran back to my room and locked myself in and then stood armed with the stove lid lifter in case it should be Ladley and he should break the door in.

The steps came up the stairs, and Peter barked furiously. It seemed to me that this was to be my end, killed like a rat in a trap and thrown out the window, to float, like my kitchen chair, into Mollie Maguire's kitchen, or to be found lying in the ooze of the yard after the river had gone down.

The steps hesitated at the top of the stairs and turned back along the hall. Peter redoubled his noise. He never barked for Mr. Reynolds or the Ladleys. I stood still, hardly able to breathe. The door was thin and the lock loose. One good blow, and—

The doorknob turned, and I screamed. I recall that the light turned black and that is all I do remember until I came to a half hour later and saw Mr. Holcombe stooping over me. The door, with the lock broken, was standing open. I tried to move, and then I saw that my feet were propped up on the edge of Peter's basket.

"Better leave them up," Mr. Holcombe said. "It sends the blood back to the head. Half the — fool people in the world stick a pillow under a fainting woman's shoulders. How are you now?"

"All right," I said feebly. "I thought you were Mr. Ladley."

He helped me up, and I sat in a chair and tried to keep my lips from shaking. And then I saw that Mr. Holcombe had brought a suit case with him and had set it inside the door.

"Ladley is safe until he gets bail, anyhow," he said. "They picked him up as he was boarding a Pennsylvania train bound east."

"For murder?" I asked.

"As a suspicious character," he replied grimly. "That does as well as anything for a time." He sat down opposite me and looked at me intently.

"Mrs. Pitman," he said, "did you ever hear the story of the horse that wandered out of a village and could not be found?"

I shook my head.

"Well, the best wit of the village failed to locate the horse. But one day the village idiot walked into town leading the missing animal by the bridle. When they asked him how he had done it, he said, 'Well, I just thought what I'd do if I was a horse and then I went and did it.'"

"I see," I said, humoring him.

"You don't see. Now, what are we trying to do?"

"We're trying to find a body. Do you intend to become a corpse?"

He leaned over and tapped on the table between us. "We are trying to prove a crime. I intend for the time to be a criminal."

He looked so curious, bent forward and glaring at me from under his bushy eyebrows, with his shoes on his knee—for he had taken them off to wade to the stairs—and his trousers rolled to his knees, that I wondered if he was entirely sane. But Mr. Holcombe, eccentric as he might be, was sane enough.

"Not really a criminal?"

"As really as lies in me. Listen, Mrs. Pitman. I want to put myself in Ladley's place for a day or two, live as he lived, if I can. I am going to sleep in his room tonight, with your permission."

I could not see any reason for objecting, although I thought it silly and useless. I led the way to the front door, Mr. Holcombe following with his shoes and suit case. I lighted a lamp and he stood looking around him.

"I see you have been here since we left this afternoon," he said.

"Twice," I replied. "First with Mr. Graves, and later—"

The words died on my tongue. Some one had been in the room since my last visit there.

"He has been here!" I gasped. "I left the room in tolerable order. Look at it!"

"When were you here last?"

"At 7:30, or thereabouts."

"Where were you between 7:30 and 8:30?"

"In the kitchen with Peter." I told him then about the dog and about finding him shut in the room.

The washstand was pulled out. The sheets of Mr. Ladley's manuscript, usually an orderly pile, were half on the floor. The bed coverings had been jerked off and flung over the back of a chair.

Peter imprisoned might have moved the washstand and upset the manuscript. Peter had never put the bed-clothing over the chair or broken his own leg.

"Humph!" he said. And, getting out his notebook, he made an exact memorandum of what I had told him and of the condition of the room. That done, he turned to me.

"Mrs. Pitman," he said, "I'll thank you to call me Mr. Ladley for the next day or so. I am an actor out of employment, forty-one years of age, short, stout and bald, married to a woman I would like to be quit of, and I am writing myself a play in which the Shuberts intend to star me or in which I intend the Shuberts to star me."

"Very well, Mr. Ladley," I said, trying to enter into the spirit of the thing, and God knows, seeing no humor in it. "Then you'll like your soda from the icebox?"

"Soda? For what?"

"For your whisky and soda before you go to bed, sir."

"Oh, certainly, yes. Bring the soda. And—just a moment, Mrs. Pitman. Mr. Holcombe is a total abstainer and has always been so. It is Ladley, not Holcombe, who takes this abominable stuff."

I said I quite understood, but that Mr. Ladley could skip a night if he so wished. But the little gentleman would not hear to it, and when I brought the soda poured himself a double portion. He stood looking at it, with his face screwed up, as if the very odor revolted him.

"The chances are," he said, "that Ladley—that I—having a nasty piece of work to do during the night, would—will take a larger drink than usual." He raised the glass, only to put it down. "Don't forget," he said, "to put a large knife where you left the one last night. I'm sorry the water has gone down, but I shall imagine it still at the seventh step. Good night, Mrs. Pitman."

"Good night, Mr. Ladley," I said, smiling, "and remember, you are three weeks in arrears with your board."

His eyes twinkled through his spectacles. "I shall imagine it paid," he said.

I went out, and I heard him close the door behind me. Then, through the door, I heard a great sputtering and coughing, and I knew he had got the whisky down somehow. I put the knife out, as he had asked me to, and went to bed. I was ready to drop. Not even the knowledge that an imaginary Mr. Ladley was about to commit an imaginary crime in the house that night could keep me awake.

Mr. Reynolds came in at 11 o'clock. I was roused when he banged his door. That was all I knew until morning. The sun on my face awakened me. Peter, in his basket, lifted his head as I moved and thumped his tail against his pillow in greeting. I put on a wrapper and called Mr. Reynolds by knocking at his door. Then I went on to the front room. The door was closed, and some one beyond was groaning. My heart stood still, and then raced on. I opened the door and looked in.

Mr. Holcombe was on the bed, fully dressed. He had a wet towel tied around his head, and his face looked swollen and puffy. He opened one eye and looked at me.

"What a night!" he groaned.

"What happened? What did you find?"

He groaned again. "Find!" he said. "Nothing, except that there was something wrong with that whisky. It poisoned me. I haven't been out of the house!"

So for that day at least Mr. Ladley became Mr. Holcombe again, and as such accepted ice in quantities, a mustard plaster over his stomach and considerable nursing. By evening he was better, but although he clearly intended to stay on, he said nothing about changing his identity again, and I was glad enough. The very name of Ladley was horrible to me.

The river went down almost entirely that day, although there was considerable water in the cellars. It takes time to get rid of that. The lower floors showed nothing suspicious. The papers were ruined, of course, the doors warped and sprung and the floors coated with mud and debris. Terry came in the afternoon, and together we hung the dining room rug out to dry in the sun.

As I was coming in I looked over at the Maguire yard. Molly Maguire was there and all her children around her, gazing. Molly was hanging out to dry a sodden fur coat that had once been striped brown and gray.

I went over after breakfast and claimed the coat as belonging to Mrs. Ladley. But she refused to give it up. There is a sort of unwritten law regarding the salvage of flood articles, and I had to leave the coat, as I had my kitchen chair. But it was Mrs. Ladley's beyond a doubt.

I shuddered when I thought how it had probably got into the water. And yet it was curious, too, for if she had had it on, how did it get loose to go floating around Molly Maguire's yard? And if she had not worn it, how did it get in the water?

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Indiana People Find Quick Relief From Stomach Trouble

First Dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy Gives Most Surprising Results.

Hundreds of Indiana people have found relief from stomach troubles by the use of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy.

This remedy is safe and efficient. The first dose gives results. And the treatment is not long. It has a wonderful record.

Here are the statements of two who have used and proven the merit of the remedy:

Charles Inman, 424 East Chesnut Street, Hartford City, Ind.—"Four doctors said they could not cure me unless I went to Fort Wayne to be operated on. I took your treatment. In three weeks I went to work and haven't missed but a half day since."

Walter Spray, 1011 South Second Street, Frankfort, Ind.—"Before I took your medicine I suffered a great deal, but since I took the first dose I have not had a bad spell."

I feel it is even more than you claim."

Letters like this come from all over the country. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy produces results. The first dose proves it.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's Mayr's. Go to Frank E. Wolcott's drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 151-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects. ### Plum Creek

The rainy day prevented some from attending the funeral of Dr. C. L. Rea. However there was a large crowd in attendance.

The baccalaureate sermon which was preached at the Raleigh Christian church was heard by a large crowd.

Miss Florence Nipp has returned from a visit of a week in Richmond with Miss Florence Burgess.

The Ladies Aid society met this afternoon with Mrs. George Billings.

Mrs. Washington Hood was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Ayres and family, at Shirley, from Friday to Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Joel G. Carson of Rushville attended church at Plum Creek Sunday.

As the Rev. Mr. Grisso was holding a meeting in Virginia, he sent the Rev. Mr. McMurray to fill his place at Plum Creek last Sunday. Although just a student, he pleased the crowd immensely.

John Hall continues to improve and hopes are entertained that he will soon be able to get out to his work again.

Dannie Newkirk and family entertained a few of his relatives Saturday evening.

A play was given Saturday evening at the Raleigh hall by the high school pupils. It was very much appreciated by the crowd.

Ben Ertle and family entertained a few of their neighbors Thursday evening.

Miss Sadie Broadhead of Rushville was the guest of Miss Florence Nipp a few days this week.

Will Whitton and family entertained Sunday for dinner Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smalley of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Linea Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riffey and daughter Lillian.

Several of the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Black, who now live at Raleigh, went in Friday night and reminded them of his birthday. A good time was reported by those who were there. Refreshments were served and, of course Ben never refuses to give the best he has in music.

New poles are being erected between Raleigh and Gings by the telephone company.

John Blessinger was the guest of Edmund and Vern Bell last Sunday.

Obituary.

Dr. Charles L. Rea was born at New Castle, Indiana, August 10th, 1859, and died at his late residence in Falmouth, Indiana, April 5th, 1914, aged 54 years, 7 months and 25 days.

He was the son of Dr. John Rea and Mary E. Remby Rea, late of New Castle, Indiana.

Dr. Charles Rea received his preparatory education in the common schools of New Castle, and in early life studied law in the office of the late Exum Saint of that city, until he was fully prepared to commence the practice of that profession; but before doing so he made a temporary sojourn in the then Territory of New Mexico, and returning from thence to New Castle, he abandoned his purpose to pursue the legal profession, and at once took up the study of medicine with his father.

After completing an office course of instructions and study, he took a regular course in medicine at the Ohio Medical College, Cincinnati, and was graduated as a physician from that institution in 1884.

He first established himself in the practice of his profession at Rogersville, Henry county, Indiana, and remained there until 1891, when he relocated at Falmouth, Rush county, Indiana, where he continued to live and practice until ill health, and finally death, closed his career.

He came of a family, the early members of which left the name indelibly marked in the annals of this immediate part of Indiana, and if any of their descendants left the farm to engage in any of the professions, they uniformly became physicians.

Dr. John Rea of New Castle, father of Dr. Charles Rea, was an eminent pioneer physician of the old school. He left two sons, Dr. George Rea, now deceased, and the subject of this sketch, to follow him in the profession; and Dr. Clarence Rea of Muncie, Indiana, son of the above Dr. George Rea, still holds to the line of professional descent.

Dr. Charles Rea was possessed of an inherently studious, observant and contemplative mind, which was aided by a retentive memory for the infinite mass of technical data and knowledge necessary to the successful practice of his profession.

These natural qualities gave him almost intuitive powers as a diagnostician—a branch of the profession in which he early received high credit and compliment while in college.

The writer of this sketch, after a number of years of intimate association with him, and unusual opportunity to observe his natural characteristics, feels warranted in venturing the estimate, that had Dr. Rea seen proper to cease his professional work under favorable conditions for wide and varied observations and experience in diseases, he would have developed the highest qualifications in his profession.

However, his retiring disposition, and his entire freedom from any taint of ostentation, led him by choice to cast his lot and professional life in rural communities, where he found most congenial conditions in living close to the people, and where he secured and richly merited the esteem and confidence of all, and gave in return the full measure of his devotion in cheer to the healthy, and alleviation to the sick and suffering.

"The elements were so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world: This is a man."

On November 30th, 1898, Dr. Rea was married to Mrs. Lillie M. Gray, who survives him, and to whom the sympathy of this community in her bereavement, goes out in one accord.

His home life was pure; and the devotion of himself and his wife to each other brought to each its full reward, and the genial hospitality, which was ever extended from their home, was a benediction to all who knew them.

He died childless; but several years ago he took into the care and nature of his home the child whom he christened Harry E. Rea, and to him he rendered the full measure of a father's love and solicitude.

Besides his immediate family, his two sisters Elizabeth Gelles and Frances Rea, of New Castle and his nephew Dr. Clarence Rea of Muncie, and his niece Rhoda Marsh of Niagara Falls, N. Y. survive him.

Of Dr. Rea it may approximately be said:

"Life's fitful fever is over. He sleeps well." (Advertisement.)

Richmond, Indiana

"12th Year of Successful Manufacturing"

"12th Year of Successful Manufacturing"

MOTOR CARS

DAVIS MOTOR CARS for the coming season cover a line so broad that most every individual requirement is represented. "DAVIS CARS" range from the choice of the most fastidious, in a Big Six-cylinder Car fitted with either five or six-passenger bodies, at the buyers option, to the Serviceable Small Car that bears the brunt of business usage, but still retains that distinctive refinement and individuality that suits it, also, for family use.

The "DAVIS" 6-50 for 1914

The "DAVIS" Six-50 for 1914 is equipped with the world famous Continental Motor, which, at a conservative rating, develops 50 Horse Power, and under test as much as 64 Horse Power. This motor is modern in every respect, having a long stroke, the new check balanced crank-shaft, silent chains, and many other features which bring it far above the average. The Continental superiority was proven to us in exhaustive tests, carried on over rugged mountains of Pennsylvania, the Gumbo districts of Illinois and Iowa, and the speedy boulevards of the larger eastern cities. Our agents in New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, etc., are intensely enthusiastic over our "speed and power."

In many ways we are harder to convince than the most particular patron, because our reputation and success is dependant on the performance of our product. The motor vehicle is likened to a chain, (no stronger than its weakest link) and therefore we see to it that "DAVIS" links are of the strongest.

The Warner transmission is built in perhaps the best equipped factory for the manufacture of transmissions in the country, and, with millions of capital behind them, they furnish a transmission that is hard to obtain elsewhere. Warner transmissions in "DAVIS" cars are equipped with important annular ball-bearings, and under all the tests that we have been able to devise the "gear box" has made itself a minor factor through its uncomplaining service.

"DAVIS" cars are also equipped with Weston-Mott axles, which are as good as can be purchased in any market, and together with the double annular ball-bearing, make a car that seems to glide instead of run. The bearings furnish so little friction that the car may be easily pushed forward or back by hand.

The Gray & Davis starting and lighting devices, Mea high tension magneto, Sheldon Springs, and in fact, all the Standard Material and parts that are used in the best motor practice will be found in the DELIGHTFUL DAVIS DESIGN.

"DAVIS" Six-50, Five passenger --- $2,150.00
"DAVIS" Six-50, Six passenger --- $2,185.00

The Next "DAVIS" in Size is the Powerful 4-50 A

which has proven its worth in the past and will continue to do so. We feel safe in saying that this particular car did as much toward making "DAVIS" reputation as any other part of our institution.

In all important features the 405-A is similar to the 6-50; the motor, however, having four cylinders with a bore of 4½ and a stroke of 5½ inches. The motor develops an unusual amount of power at a medium speed and accelerates with such a dash and vim that it has surprised even the most experienced of the "Motor Wise." We offer the 4-50 A, fully equipped with either five, four or two passenger bodies at $1,985.00

Model 35-J, Five passenger --- $1,335.00
Model 35-K, Two passenger Roadster $1,335.00

Then the "DAVIS" 35 J

which is a small "four-cylinder" car and fitted with either five or two-passenger bodies at the same quotation.

The motor has a bore of 3½ and a stroke of 5 inches which shows upon the face of it a guarantee for economy in operation.

Again the Weston-Mott axles are used and, together with many other features, this model offers the public a surprise when it is compared with other cars of similar price.

Under recent tests this motor developed 35.7 actual brake horse power, which, considering its small size, is a remarkable performance. In every respect this motor follows modern tendencies toward large dimensions and is designed to run at unusually high speeds.

The Westinghouse combination magneto and generator together with their starting device is only associated with cars of much higher price. The name "Westinghouse" alone is an adequate guarantee of satisfaction and service.

It will be noticed that the entire "DAVIS" line is made up of distinctively new and modern designs. Our own conservative taste is combined with the latest Stream-line practice abroad, making a line of cars that carry beauty and grace to the latest issue.

Ask Rush County Owners About the "Davis" Cars

All prospective buyers of motor cars in Rush County should appreciate the opportunity that we offer them of buying their car of one of Richmond's oldest and most reliable manufacturers of motor cars. A large number of these cars are running in Rush County and we should be greatly pleased to have you make inquiry of any owner of "DAVIS" cars.

There are many advantages to be considered in buying your car direct from the manufacturer—we are only a few hours drive from your door, which affords you many advantages in the way of being favored with our services which we extend to all of our customers and users of our cars. We would be pleased to have any prospective buyer of a car visit our factory, let us get acquainted and show you our finished product as well as just how our various models are manufactured and let us lay our proposition before you, or, in the event it is not convenient for you to visit our factory if you will write us we will be pleased to mail you our illustrated catalog and have our factory salesman call upon you in a demonstrating car at your home and when you have had any one of these models demonstrated to you, you will readily appreciate the difference in the general appearance and the distinctive styles as well as the real value of a Continental motor equipped car.

"QUALITY COUNTS"

"Quality Counts", is the "DAVIS" slogan, and it has been used by the manufacturers of "DAVIS" cars since our earliest models were being considered.

Out of an open market the Continental motor was adopted because of its years of experienced and consequent prestige. Continental quality is beyond denial and there is no longer any one so foolish as to offer objections to this or that feature about the Continental design.

It is interesting to know that Continental motors are all tested, before leaving the factory in a sound proof room, made of eight inch walls. It is the silent test under extreme working conditions, and the motor's work is carefully watched, and an accurate record is made by the "dynamometer." No possible noise of operation can escape notice, so the motor must prove itself a perfect mechanism.

Silent motors are saving in power and upkeep. More—silence is a guarantee against friction and it takes amazing exactness in machining, down to the one-ten-thousandth of an inch, to eliminate friction. This insures for the motor a long life of satisfactory service.

Over 80,000 users are loud in their praise for Continental, and thousands more have been contracted for to be used in the coming season.

Listen to the next "DAVIS" you see and you will be surprised at the sweet-running motor, transmission and axle. In our axle you will hear none of the disagreeable hum and roar that are experienced in many other makes.

"DAVIS CARS" are clean cut and every provision is made to take up the wear that naturally comes into all cars. For this reason all annoying rattles and squeaks are eliminated and you may be sure of a smooth operating and noiseless car even after years of service.

We think it is only fair to every one that they may know and understand what our slogan "Quality Counts" means, when a new car is being considered.

If you will call and inspect our factory and car, we feel sure you will be interested in our 1914 models.

WILL GET DOWN TO ACTUAL WORK

Republicans Will Hold First Meetings Tomorrow to Elect Delegates For Many Conventions.

BIG MEETING FOR CARTHAGE

Rushville Township Call is Rather Confusing—City Names Its Delegates Alone.

The Republicans of Rush county will get down to actual work Friday when the first of the township meetings to select delegates to the county, councilmanic, state and congressional conventions will be selected and in several of the townships the tickets will be named.

Ripley township is planning for a big meeting tomorrow afternoon at the Bundy block in Carthage when they will select the township ticket. P. J. Lynch, of Newcastle, Republican district chairman, will attend this meeting and is booked for a speech. John McCordle of Indianapolis, former state tax commissioner and a well known grain dealer, will also make an address. Mr. McCordle's talk will be especially interesting to the women and a record crowd is expected. The convention will be called to order at one-thirty o'clock.

The Republicans of Noble township will also meet tomorrow afternoon, and besides selecting delegates to the various conventions, will name their township ticket. The meeting will be held in the New Salem school house at two o'clock.

The township tickets will also be named in Jackson, and Union townships tomorrow. The Jackson township meeting will be held at seven-thirty o'clock Friday night in the Kenning school house. The Union township meeting will be held at one o'clock at the Stringtown school.

The big meeting of the day will be held here at seven-thirty o'clock Friday night. The Republicans of the city will meet and name two delegates to the state and congressional conventions. The delegates to the county convention will be named by wards. The call for the Rushville township meetings is somewhat confusing. The city is entitled to two delegates to the state and congressional conventions, while the outside township is entitled to one delegate to each of the conventions.

The two delegates to the state convention will be named tomorrow night by the entire convention and the county delegates will be named by the ward meetings. The first ward is entitled to 24 delegates to the county convention, the second ward 18 and the third ward 28. The meeting will be held in the sheriff's office in the court house. Because of the telephone meeting, it was impossible to secure the assembly room.

The Republicans of the entire township will meet in the assembly room Saturday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock for the purpose of selecting the township ticket. Following this meeting those living in the township outside of the city will meet and select one delegate each to the state and congressional convention. After this is done they will meet by precincts and select delegates to the county convention. The outside township is entitled to thirty-one delegates as follows: No. 1, one; No. 2, six; No. 3, six; No. 4, six; No. 5, six; No. 6, six; No. 7, six; No. 8, twelve; and No. 9, one.

On Saturday the Walker and Richland township tickets will be named, and the other townships will select delegates to the various conventions.

TO STRIKE BACK AT CRITICS

Wilson to Prosecute Newspapers Under Publicity Law.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 9.—Plans of the Wilson administration to strike back in the campaign waged against the President by several newspapers in the tolls exemption fight were indicated today by Congressman Barnhart of Indiana, author of the newspaper publicity law. Following a conference with the postmaster-general, he said prosecutions under the new law were contemplated on the ground that paid advertisements not labeled as such had been printed in many newspapers.

WILL ENFORCE LAW AS TO STRAY STOCK

Oliver M. Siler, Trustee of Jackson Township, Will Post Notices Calling Attention to Statute.

STRAYS WILL BE TAKEN UP

At least one trustee in Rush county will enforce the law in regard to stray live stock on the public highways. Oliver M. Siler, trustee of Jackson township, will, in a few days, post notices throughout the township calling attention to the law and pointing out that any stock found running at large on any of the highways of Jackson township will be taken up as stray and sold to pay the cost of the same unless the owner pays the bill.

The action in Jackson township is one that would be wise for every trustee to adopt. Such enforcement of the law would not only protect the stock but also the lives of automobilists who drive by night so much in the spring and summer months. Very frequently there are serious accidents from autos running into stock along the public highway. Motor car owners have often complained of the practice that is so common with farmers.

MAY LOSE SIGHT OF HIS LEFT EYE

Wilbur Hansell of Near Milroy Suffers Severe Injury While Driving Nail in Board.

PENETRATES IRIS OF HIS EYE

Wilbur Hansell, who is employed by rank McCorkle on his farm, three-quarters of a mile east of Milroy, may lose the sight of his left eye as the result of an accident yesterday afternoon. He was driving a nail in a board when he struck it a glancing blow and the nail was driven out and stuck in his eye.

Ed Poole took Mr. Hansell to Indianapolis last night with the intention of consulting Dr. W. F. Hughes, an eye specialist, concerning his injury. He was treated temporarily by Dr. Kennedy of Milroy. The nail stuck in the iris of his eye and it was greatly feared that he would never see out of it again.

REHEARSAL OF FUED IN TRIALS

Kuhn-Ebbing Trouble Arises Again When Three Participants Are Fined in Manila Court.

ALL CHARGED WITH PROVOKE

Ben Ebbing, in Addition, is Acquitted of Charge of Drawing Deadly Weapon on Roy Fuchs.

The Ebbing-Kuhn feud was rehearsed again yesterday afternoon in a trial before Squire Smart at Manila when Ben Ebbing of Orange township was freed by a jury of twelve men of a charge of drawing a deadly weapon on Roy Fuchs of Shelby county, and when August Ebbing, Walter and Andrew Kuhn each were assessed a fine of a dollar and costs by the squire for provoke.

The cases of provoke date back to December 5 of last year when Walter Kuhn, the guardian of August Ebbing's two girls, and August Ebbing quarreled over the custody of the children.

The provoke charges against Walter and Andrew Kuhn were filed by Ben Ebbing, a brother of August's, and on a plea of guilty, they were each fined. The same kind of a charge against August Ebbing was brought by Walter Kuhn. He, too, entered a plea of guilty and was fined.

Since that trouble occurred, the guardianship matter has been settled in the circuit court here. Michael Kney was appointed guardian of the property interests of the two girls and the father was made guardian of their person.

However, it seems that the oldest daughter, Anna Ebbing, was at the home of Walter Kuhn last Saturday night when Roy Fuchs called for her and they started in a buggy to Blue Ridge.

According to the story as brought out at the trial they had not proceeded far when they were met in the road by the Ebbing brothers. Ben turned a flashlight on them and held the horse until the girl left the buggy and proceeded home with her papa. Then Ben released the hold on the animal and Roy was allowed to continue his journey alone.

The boy asserted that Ben flashed a revolver as well as a light, but the Ebbing brothers and Anna testified there was no gun in the incident except one owned by the prosecuting witness, which was lying harmless in the buggy at the time and which he had fired just a few moments before the buggy was stopped by the Ebbing brothers.

Prosecuting Attorney Donald Smith of this city represented the state in all of the proceedings and A. L. Gary of this city was attorney for the Kuhn brothers.

WILL HAVE A CLEAN-UP WEEK

Richmond Will Receive Its Annual Scrubbing in May This Year.

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., April 3.—This city will receive its annual scrubbing this spring in the first week in May, which has been set aside as cleaning week. Richmond will have a "sample square" which will be graded, sodded, and planted with trees. The idea is to make a model square of it and to keep it in the best condition as an example to the citizens.

NEED WOOLENS EASTER PARADE

Local Forecast Says Warmer Friday, But Rumors Are Ice Blast From Alaska is on the Way.

WILL ARRIVE BY NEXT SUNDAY

Farmers Are Discouraged by Continued Delay Because Few Have Turned a Furrow.

The prospects for an Easter parade in woolens, muff and winter duds are very good. The local forecast for Indiana today is warmer Friday, but the United States weather department at Washington dashes the fond hopes of the Easter paraders with the announcement that a cold wave is coming down off the ice fields of Alaska to spoil the balmy Easter that was in prospect.

Unprecedented in a decade is the temperature that has prevailed here the last few days. The lowest mark of the spring month was established this morning when a temperature of sixteen degrees above zero was registered by several thermometers. Twenty above was the lowest temperature of the month up to this morning.

The sun returned joyfully to earth today after its prolonged spring vacation and spread its gladsome rays all about, but it had little effect on the mercury which has become unfriendly to the sun during its long sojourn abroad.

The continued cold weather at this season of the year is not without its serious aspect for the farmer. No crops are being damaged by the succession of freezes, but the cold weather is delaying spring farm work so that all of the crops will be late.

Ordinarily farmers have opportunity to do a little spring plowing in February and March, but this year there has been no let-up of the cold weather long enough to permit the farmers to do any plowing at all. Several farmers have had all arrangements complete to plow, and then the weather suddenly changed and made it impossible. Any number of farmers have not turned a furrow.

Ordinarily at this time such freezes as have occurred the last few nights would have damaged the fruit and spring garden truck, but not many garden vegetables have been planted and the fruit is very backward. Fruit growers are not expecting a very large crop this year anyway because last year's crop was so bountiful.

Before the extreme cold, it was the rain that delayed the farmers. The ground was soaked with water before the freeze, and when the thaw comes again, farmers will suffer another delay. This is especially damaging to the prospective oats crop because if it is not sowed at the proper time, the crop is no good.

DEMURRER HEARD IN COURT

Argument in Moses Vandenberg Case Taken Up Today.

Judge Megee heard the argument on a demurrer this afternoon in the case of the Kokomo Trust company against Moses Vandenberg in which $7,000 is asked on notes. The case was sent to this county on a change of venue from Henry county. Several attorneys were here today on the case and Judge Megee is anxious to close the issues that the case may be tried.

ARGUE WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Two Men Quarrel and Meyer Henagow is Shot Through Heart.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, April 9.—The murder victim shot at a red light cafe was today identified as Meyer Henagow. The police were searching for James Frutchee, known as "Duffy the Goat," scion of a wealthy family, but a frequenter of the tenderloin. He will be charged with murder. The two men were said to have quarreled over the merits of woman suffrage. Henagow was found at midnight with a bullet through his heart.

AGED MAN STOOD TOO CLOSE TO FIRE

INJURY MAY PROVE SERIOUS

Henry Hall, 85 years old, was painfully burned yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers, north of this city. The aged man was alone in the sitting room of the Myers home and got too close to the stove. His trousers caught on fire and his left leg was badly burned from the hip to the ankle. He called for help and it so happened that Mr. Myers and two sons were in the house. The blaze was easily extinguished but not until after the flesh had been burned to a blister.

Mr. Hall is very feeble and did not realize that he was too close to the stove until his trousers were on fire. He is an uncle of Mrs. Myers. Because of his advanced age the burns may prove serious.

WOMEN HOLD STAGE IN ROBERTS TRAIL

Two Testify Today to Alleged Irregularities in Terre Haute Primaries Being Investigated.

ONE SAW POLL BOOK TORN UP

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., April 9.—Women were star witnesses today in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, charged with election frauds. Goldie Wade, chief of a sporting house, was questioned concerning names registered from her place.

"There aren't any men living in my house," she said, "and I don't know the names registered from there."

Several men's names appeared on the books as coming from Goldie's five-room bungalow which is at 300 North Third street.

Mrs. Bertha Akers, a woman watcher at precinct No. 8, first ward, election day, said she saw men enter the rear door of the voting place and climb under the ropes.

"I also saw a poll book stolen and torn to pieces," she said.

CONVENTION HERE.

Connersville Examiner: Progressive Chairman Roberts, of the Sixth district, was in this city yesterday afternoon and at a meeting held at the McFarlan hotel, which was attended by the various county chairmen of the district, it was decided to hold the progressive district congressional convention at Rushville, May 2.

RACE BETWEEN TWO TIGHTENS

Contest For B. F. McFarlan's Seat on Telephone Directorate Increases Interest in Meeting.

DR. W. S. COLEMAN'S POSITION

Says he is Not Making the Race as Opposed to W. T. Jackson Because it is Not an Issue.

Dr. W. S. Coleman, candidate for Ben F. McFarlan's seat on the board of directors of the Rushville Co-Operative Telephone company, flatly denied today that he was making the race as opposed to the present secretary-manager, W. T. Jackson. His candidacy, he says, is not being waged against the present management, but is merely an effort to become a director in place of Mr. McFarlan.

Dr. Coleman explained that a wrong impression had been gained by the intimation that in case of his election, Mr. Jackson might be ousted as secretary and manager. He declared that this question did not enter into the contest in the remotest measure.

Dr. Coleman said today that he had the promise of the votes of many friends of the present secretary-manager and that he feared if the impression was broadcast that he was opposing the re-election of Mr. Jackson to the office he now holds, they might be antagonized.

The annual election will be held tomorrow night in the court house assembly room when four directors will be elected. They contribute a majority of the board. R. F. Scudder, J. M. Amos, W. A. Jones and Mr. McFarlan, the members whose terms expire, are all candidates for re-election. There is no opposition to any of them, with the exception of the candidacy of Dr. Coleman who seeks Mr. McFarlan's seat.

Proxies are figuring in the contest as the friends of both the candidates in the race are gathering them in. The attendance at the meeting promises to be large because interest in the meeting has been increased by the race for one of the directorships.

There are nearly 228,000 pleasure cars, nearly 180,000 motorcycles and more than 18,000 commercial motor vehicles registered in the United Kingdom.

Small Hats This Season

Fashion has swung back again to the small hat. There are many other radical changes in millinery styles this spring.

Just turn to the advertising columns in The Daily Republican and notice the interesting stores they are telling from day to day.

Fashions come and go as fast as the scenes of a motion picture.

The stores are ever alert to follow and proclaim the fashion-changes—and the advertising is the voice of the stores.

To keep up-to-date on the fashions this season one must be a reader of advertising.

Every line of it is news of great interest and importance.

When the Worm Turned.

Recently a man omitted to hand his tailor a few chunks of silver in exchange for good togs, and after waiting a reasonable length of time the tailor party sued for the amount of the bill.

Thus it was that he found himself on the witness stand one day with the insistent lawyer for defendant trying to establish the point that his client had three months in which to pay for the goods and that that time had scarcely elapsed.

"Now, sir, Mr. Tailor Man," mercifully continued the lawyer, "had I bought those clothes instead of my client, would you have summoned me into court at this early stage?"

"No, sir," was the prompt rejoinder of the witness.

"Good!" smiled the lawyer, with a satisfied air. "And why not, please?" "Because," came the answer of the tailor, "in your case it would have been a cash transaction."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Persia's Sorrowful Tree.

There is a tree in Persia to which the name "the sorrowful tree" is given, perhaps because it blossoms only in the evening. When the first star appears in the heavens the first bud of the sorrowful tree opens and as the shades of night advance and the stars thickly stud the sky the buds continue gradually opening until the whole tree looks like one immense white flower. On the approach of dawn, when the brilliancy of the stars gradually fades in the light of day, the sorrowful tree closes its flowers and ere the sun is fully risen not a single blossom is visible. A sheet of flower dust as white as snow covers the ground around the foot of the tree, which seems blighted and withered during the day, while, however, it is actively preparing for the next nocturnal festival. The fragrance of the blossoms is like that of the evening primrose.

For Husbands.

A clergyman took down a small volume. "This is called," he said, "the 'Instructions of Ptah-hotep.' It is one of the very oldest papyrus writings known. It gives, among other things, advice to husbands, and that advice is as good today as it ever was. Listen." And he read:

"If thou be wise furnish thy house well.
"Woo thy wife ever and never quarrel with her.
"Nourish her daintily.
"Deck her out, for fine dress is her greatest delight.
"Feed her upon sweets.
"Perfume her.
"Make her glad with praise.
"Adorn her with jewels, feathers and the skirts of beasts as sumptuously as thy purse will suffer."

PUPILS OF HIGH SCHOOL TO ENTER

Class For Students to Exhibit is Arranged For Annual Purdue Egg Show to be Held in May.

SCOPE OF WORK ENLARGED

New Feature Determined on Because of Introduction of Study of Scientific Agriculture.

The Sixth Annual Purdue Egg Show, held at Purdue University on the 6th, 7th and 8th of May, will possess a new feature that has been lacking in all previous exhibits. On account of the increased interest in scientific agriculture and the institution of agricultural courses in the high schools of Indiana, the committee in charge of the Purdue Egg Show has decided to enlarge the scope of work and open a class for the entries of high school pupils.

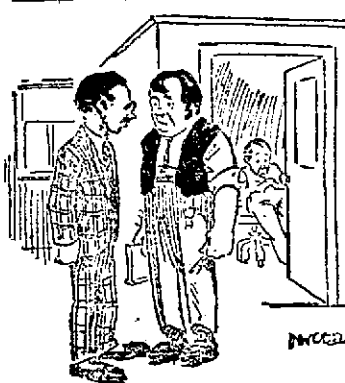

The purpose of extending the work into the high schools is to encourage the pupils in the study of scientific agriculture, to teach them to appreciate and advocate a better grade of market eggs, and to interest them in what is going on at Purdue University.

Attractive premiums will be offered in this class for both brown and white eggs. For the best dozen brown and the best dozen white eggs cash prizes of $3 will be given. For the second best dozen in each color a cash premium of $1 will be awarded. For the third best dozen in each color a year's subscription to the Purdue Agriculturist will be given. Besides these prizes there will be a grand sweepstakes premium, consisting of the gorgeous Purdue Extension Department trophy, awarded to the high school represented by the best dozen eggs, either color. The cup shall remain on display in the winning school for a period of one year, at the end of which time it shall be returned to the University to be entered in next year's show.

Present indications show that there will be a great interest shown by the high schools of the state, and the trophy hotly contested for.

Anyone wishing further information on the Purdue Egg Show can obtain same by writing to the Secretary, Purdue Egg Show, West Lafayette, Indiana.

FROM "THE IMPERSONATOR."

"THE IMPERSONATOR," Edison special release for April 10, is a drama of life in Washington adapted from the well known novel by Mary Imray Taylor. It is in three parts and produced in Washington and at the Edison studio under the direction of Charles J. Brabin. A dramatic moment from the photo play is here pictured.

"The Better Way." (Selig. Two reels.) The pathetic but old story of the ruin of a happy marriage through the demon drink. The scenes are all very good, especially those in the woods, and the one of the escaping deer is exceptionally realistic.

"On the Altar of Patriotism." (Pathe. Two reels.) Clear photography, clever acting and good settings combine to make this story, dealing with the secret service of a military government, of interest.

LILLIAN DREW.

Lillian Drew is a talented member of the Essanay company of photo play producers. She appeared in "Luck in Odd Numbers," which you may have seen or may still see.

Edward R. G. R. Evans, commander of H. M. S. President in the English navy, who was the second in command of the Captain Robert F. Scott south pole expedition, was caught giving an autographed portrait of himself to Miss Norma Phillips, the heroine of "Our Mutual Girl" series. He will be seen in the coming chapter of this great Mutual movie serial.

After weeks of publicity "Samson," the great six reel production of the Universal company, is at last ready for the market. Never has a picture been more widely heralded than this. It has been advertised from coast to coast as the greatest effort of its kind, and it need not be added that the moving picture trade and patrons have looked forward to its first showing.

Scenario writers will be interested to learn that the American Film Manufacturing company of Chicago is on the qui vive for scenarios adapted for comedies and light dramas for use in the "Beauty" films.

Irving Cummings, one of the most popular leading men on the screen today, will soon be seen again in Mutual movies. Mr. Cummings, who has a large personal following among the photo play "fans," is now under a long term contract with the Thanhouser Film corporation.

Society News

The K. of P.'s will give a dance tonight at their hall in West Second street. There will be one more dance this spring. Music will be furnished tonight by Douglass of Indianapolis.

Frank Dishinger was pleasantly surprised last night at his home 626 West Ninth street, the event being his 51st birthday anniversary. Thirty-two friends and relatives were present, and the surprise was complete. A sociable evening was spent. Refreshments were served.

Amusements

The Princess will show a Lubin drama "The Pale of Prejudice" for the first picture tonight. Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby are featured. It is said to be a fine drama. The second is a Vitagraph comedy entitled "The Lucky Elopement." In this one Anita Stewart and Ralph Ince are featured. The last is a comedy "A Stage Door Flirtation." Tomorrow night the two reel feature "Treasures on Earth" will be shown.

The Gem offers the usual three pictures for tonight. The first is a Victor drama entitled "The Old Knife Grinder." Ethel Grandin is featured and it is said to be a dramatic production. The second is a Joker comedy "In the Year 2014." Max Ascher is featured. The last is an Imp comedy "A Hot Finish." Tomorrow night Bob Leonard will be seen in a Rex drama "The Fourth Proposal."

The Portola will show a Pathe two reel feature "The Power of Print" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a thrilling picture telling a sensational story. The other is a Lubin drama "His Excellency." Friday night the big three reel production "Beasts of the Jungle" will be shown, and Saturday night the four part feature "The Queen's Jewel" will be offered.

Miss Versie Viola Higgs is ill at her home in North Jackson street.

trend toward the Republican party.
They are so numerous these days that it is almost impossible to chronicle all of them.In the recent primaries in Allen county, Ind., the Republicans outvoted the progressives by three and four to one in all of the precincts of the county. The total vote on judge of the superior court shows a total of 696 ballots for the Republican candidates and 164 votes for the Progresssive. This total is better than four to one in favor of the Republicans.In Pennsylvania in November, 1912
Roosevelt received 447,246 votes,
Taft 273,305 votes and Wilson 395-619 votes.Pennsylvania has just completed her registration for this campaign.
Of those registering 430,000 declaredthemselves republicans, 420,000 enrolled as democrats, and 180,000 registered as progressives. This under the lashing of big newspapers in Philadelphia and Pittsburg still adhering to the bull moose cause, and under the stress of conditions which make it harder for the republican party in Pennsylvania than in some other states.In other words at the last election the republicans cast 22 percent of the votes the bull mooseers 36 percent, and the democrats 32 per cent.
While in 1914 the enrollment shows that less than 20 per cent of the voters are bull mooseers, more than 40 per cent are republicans and a little less than 40 per cent are democrats.A recent conference of the Progressives of Michigan was a rank failure as many other state conferences have been. Both United Press and Associated Press dispatches said there were only a hundred present.
This does not look very encouraging when it is considered that Col. Roosevelt carried Michigan in 1912.Although only a hundred present, there was a factional quarrel and a threatened disruption of the meeting.
A resolution requesting the New York progressives to nominate Col.
Roosevelt for governor this year, presented by the Colonel's attorney is the famous Ishpeming trial, caused "an hour of heated wrangling," after which the resolution was withdrawn.In North Dakota a recent statewide conference of bull moose partisans, addressed by Gifford Pinchot, was the same kind of a frost, and immediately thereafter sixty thousand voters participated in the republican primaries more votes than have, on the average, been cast by the republicans at the general elections in that state during the last ten years. In that primary, Senator Coe I. Crawford, who put over the stunt of printing the Roosevelt electors on the republican ballot in North Dakota in 1912, was defeated for renomination by 10,000 plurality.The Indianapolis Star presents a very weak defense for the Progresssive party in commenting on the loss of Mayor Batchelor of Marion who renounced his allegiance to the party this week and announced his return to the Republican party. The Star certainly disposes of such incidents by stoutly asserting that the gentleman in question never belonged to the Progressive party anyway. So might it be said of all the Republicans who went to the Progressive party in 1912. They never were Republicans.
But that's not the case. They were Republicans and the majority of them are coming back to the Republican party. And there's the rub.Notice of Administration.Notice is hereby given that the under-

By Louise Fletcher Tarkington.

I wish that there were some wonderful place
Called the Land of Beginning Again,
Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches
And all our poor selfish grief
Could be dropped, like a shabby old coat, at the door
And never put on again.I wish we could come on it all unaware,
Like the hunter who finds a lost trail;
And I wish that the one whom our blindness had done
The greatest injustice of all
Could be at the gates, like an old friend that waits
For the comrade he's gladdest to hail.We would find all the things we intended to do
But forgot, and remembered—too late.
Little praises unspoken, little promises broken
And all of the thousand and one
Little duties neglected that might have perfected
The day for one less fortunate.It wouldn't be possible not to be kind
In the Land of Beginning Again;
And the ones we misjudged and the ones we grudged
Their moments of victory here
Would find in the grasp of our loving handclasp
More than penitent lips could explain.For what had been hardest we'd know had been best,
And what had seemed loss would be gain;
For there isn't a sting that will not take wing
When we've faced it and laughed it away;
And I think that the laughter is most what we're after
In the Land of Beginning Again.So I wish that there were some wonderful place
Called the Land of Beginning Again,
Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches
And all our poor selfish grief
Could be dropped like a shabby old coat, at the door,
And never put on again.What Our Neighbors
Are Talking About THAT ARGENTINE CORN.

(Columbus Republican.)

The Chicago market report for April 6 says there were offerings that day of Argentine corn all along the coast from the St. Lawrence to Texas, and yet, despite that fact, the market turned strong because of an apparent shortage of corn for immediate use by interior states. Every day the importation of the Argentine product has to be considered from a new angle. And remember one thing, always—every bushel imported displaces one grown by an American farmer on American soil and it matters not especially what it does to the market.POSSE WORKS ON

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—The biggest feast of middle western Republicans since the convention in 1912 when Theodore Roosevelt hurled his denunciation at certain elements in the party will be held at the Medinah Temple tonight, under the auspices of the Hamilton club. Fully five thousand persons are expected to join in the "harmony feast."This day was chosen because it is the anniversary of the battle of Appomattox, although those in charge of the affair scorn the insinuation that there is any relation historically or otherwise in selecting the date. In fact men who lead the Bull Moose circles are in the majority on the banquet committee which is in charge of the arrangements. Edwin W. Sims, Alex Effe and Frank J. Snite, Roose-

BUICK--1914

There are some motor cars that sell for less money than Buicks. But they cost more.

There's a model for everybody in the 1914 Buick line. Everything is left side drive and center control.

The B-36 roadster is the peppiest four cylinder car you ever drove, and it has all the style that makes the people you pass take that second look. The B-37 on the same chassis has caused a bigger sensation than any other four cylinder car brought out by any concern in the past few years.

We guarantee that the Buick six-cylinder car with five passengers will tour over ordinary roads on not to exceed one gallon of gasoline consumption to every fifteen miles traveled, and frequent actual road tests have assured us that it is possible to get as high as twenty miles per gallon.

RUSHVILLE BOY GETS INTO GAME

C. S. Lee Not to Hold Regular Berth in Federal, But he's Assistant Business Manager.

OF THE INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

Former Editor of Republican is Enthusiastic About Outlaw Organization Which he Represents.

President J. Edward Krause and Business Manager W. H. Watkins of the Indianapolis Federal League Club last night announced the appointment of Clifford S. Lee, a well-known Indianapolis newspaper man, as assistant business manager and publicity director, says the Indianapolis Star today. Mr. Lee entered upon his duties today. He will join Manager "Whom Bill's" team in St. Louis next Wednesday and will remain with it throughout the season, traveling over the entire circuit.

Mr. Lee came to Indianapolis several years ago from Rushville, where he was editor of the Rushville Republican, taking a position on The Indianapolis Star as reporter. He resigned as political writer for The Star in 1911 to devote his energies to publicity work. For two years he was retained by the Indiana Manufacturers' and Shippers' Association as publicity director and assistant secretary. His earlier newspaper experience consisted in writing sporting news.

"There is no question," said Mr. Lee last night, "but that the Federal League has come to stay. I am very enthusiastic over its prospects. Indianapolis will have a team this year of which it may well feel proud and our park will compare with the best. From what I have already learned, I am confident Indianapolis fans will see a brand of ball in the Federal League this year such as this city has not witnessed in many years.

"Just as soon as I get my hand in we will tell the Indianapolis fans more about the Federal League and the club which has been picked to represent Indianapolis. We want them to know all about us.

"Publicity in connection with a baseball park is an innovation, in a sense, but we are sure it will prove as adaptable to a ball club as it has to all other lines of endeavor to which it is now such a necessary adjunct.

"In establishing this department we are endeavoring to make it easy for the newspapers to get accurate information. I shall be glad to help the newspaper men in any way I can."

GAME SUNDAY HAS BEEN CANCELED

Condition of Grounds Will Prevent Contest With Indianapolis Team. Opener April 19—

DATES WITH NEWCASTLE

The practice game scheduled with the Blue Valley team of Indianapolis for Sunday has been called off. The grounds were under water yesterday and it would be impossible to get them in shape for play by Sunday. The fans will not have an opportunity to see the team in action until the following Sunday when the season will be opened with the Navy Rescoring team of Indianapolis.

Manager Fisher booked two games and has a date for a third game if it is necessary. Newcastle will play here July 12, and the Arcadians will play there August 2. If a third game is necessary it will be played August 16. While in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon Manager Fisher ordered his supplies for the season.

The Arcadians will appear at Washington park, Indianapolis this year, meeting the Indianapolis Reserves. The Reserves management promised Fisher a date there and that team will play here. The date for the game there cannot be given until it is learned when the two Indianapolis league teams will not play at home.

MAY LAND BERTH IN LEAGUE

Newcastle is Likely to Lose Ray Brubaker.

Ray Brubaker, the crack short stop of the Newcastle team last year, will get a tryout with the Middlesboro club of the Appalachian league, which is training at Richmond. Brubaker has talked it over with L. S. Draper, manager of the Middlesboro team and will report at Richmond April 29 when the team begins its spring training. Brubaker did not sign a contract but will do so if he can land the berth. Brubaker will go ahead against four other candidates for jobs at the heavy infield position. Brubaker wants to be sure of a job before he signs as he does not want to be released to a smaller league and then likely to be farmed.

Will Figure As Defenders of America

Two American pilots who figure prominently in the nightmares of Europeans in the next Indianapolis sweepstakes races are Spencer Wishart and Eddie Fullen, drivers of Mercer cars, seen above to the left and right respectively. This pair is counted among the foremost gasoline heroes of the age, the former having raced ever since he was a youth, and the latter capturing the Grand Prize at Santa Monica recently as his debut, with an average of 77.2 miles an hour.

Chatterton's Suicide.

Thomas Chatterton, the poet, was a phenomenal boy. He wrote some remarkable verse for one of his age. He was born in Bristol, England, on Nov. 20, 1752. He went to London to better his opportunities for employment. He did not succeed and lost heart. He became very poor and sometimes for days was compelled to go with little or no food. On Aug. 24 Mrs. Angel, the woman from whom he rented a room, knowing that during three days he had eaten nothing, invited him to dinner. He was offended at her expressions, which seemed to hint that he was in want and assured her that he was not hungry. Withdrawing into his garret at nightfall on the same day and quietly locking himself in death came to him before daybreak on Aug. 25, 1770. When, on his continued nonappearance in the morning, the attic door was broken open it was found from the contents of a nearly empty phial still grasped in his hand that he had died from the effects of arsenic.

Relation of City and Country.

With us cities are as certain to spring up with the increase of country population as the forests are to disappear. City and country are organically related. Crops cannot be grown without fields nor exchanged and manufactured under the modern system of division of labor without cities. Only in the rudest pioneer settlements do men dispense with this division of labor by doing everything painfully and badly on the farm. Such settlements are retarded and hampered until they have towns for the city part of the work. When we estimate that the average inhabitant of New York may have but a few score square feet for his own use we are apt to forget that he can only exist on them because somewhere in the country there are acres of ground producing for him, as really and definitely for him as if he owned them and hired the labor on them, what Professor Penck has called his "sustenance space."—Atlantic.

Beauty Fashions.

In the days of Roman supremacy the women tinted their eyebrows with black in emulation of "ox eye Venus." They painted their faces, sprinkled themselves with perfumes and even wore false hair or tinted their own locks in accordance with the prevailing fashion.

The Greek ladies of the same period employed maids who rubbed out their mistress' wrinkles, "decorated" her face with red and white paint and darkened her eyebrows. It was then also the fashion to coat the face with white of egg and goose grease to protect it from the sun and wind. It is even said that they had a recipe for turning blue eyes to black.

These fashions all had their origin in Italy, where in later years the notorious Lucrezia Borgia is said to have dyed her hair different colors, according to her fancy of the moment.

The Republican Company has a limited supply of pencil scratch tablets, 4x7, 100 sheets to pad, they will close out at 3 for 5c or 7 for 10c.

TAKES NO NERVE TO FIGHT REPEAL

Senator Lodge Says we Incur no Physical Danger by Refusing to Exempt Coastwise Ships.

DEFENDS PRESIDENT WILSON

But Marvels at Coolness With Which We Have Kept Murder of 50 Americans in Mexico.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 9.—Comparing the outbursts of those who have been opposing the "surrender" of canal rights to ajax defying lightning that did not exist, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the "scholar of the senate," this afternoon eloquently pleaded for support for President Wilson's repeal plan.

The Republican solon said he could not deal in a partisan political spirit with treaty question. He told of opposing a number of Republican presidents on treaties, and of supporting Cleveland.

"But Cleveland's policy in regard to Venezuela involved serious issues and grave possibilities," he said. "It was not mere posturing and declamation against another, imparting no danger and adapted only to raise the temperature around our polling booths."

"There is no particular courage required to insist upon the passing of our own ships through the canal without payment of tolls," the Bay State senator declared. "We incur no physical danger in doing so, and to hurl defiance at the rest of the world under these conditions is no doubt a very agreeable pastime to those who engage in it, more especially as it has the added attraction of being a perfectly safe amusement, but it seems not wholly satisfying as an argument.

"The attitude of ajax defying the lightning is not a very inspiring one if there is no lightning to be feared. The outcry about exhibiting subservience to Great Britain or any other country because we see fit to repeal the tolls seems to be hardly worthy of serious consideration. The United States is altogether too great and too powerful to be subservient to any one.

"As I have listened to some recent stirring declarations of our readiness to face a world in arms, in defense of tolls exemptions, about which noble cause no country would think of fighting, there have been moments when I have marveled as I thought of the coolness and indifference with which we have kept the murder of more than fifty Americans not many miles from our own border. The violated rights, the unavenged, the almost unnoticed deaths of those innocent people have seemed to make heroes about canal tolls where there is no peril to any one particularly out of place.

"We obtained by the passage of the toll exemption clause no legal rights which we did not already possess; we waive none by its repeal. All we have we retain, for the law is merely our own statute for the regulation of the terms upon which the canal shall be used."

Lodge took the position that the tolls exemption, either for coastwise or foreign trading ships, would not be violation of the treaties in a strict legal sense. He pointed out that from the high pinnacle of international esteem reached this country in 1909, the United States had become distrusted, due to a number of reasons. He urged that this distrust would be further aggravated by doing a thing "so useless as subsidize a class of ships which did not need a subsidy."

CULLOP LOSES BY SEVEN VOTES

Democratic Representative From Second District Defeated in Primary For Nomination.

UNOFFICIAL COUNT IS MADE

Dissatisfaction With Congressman in Monroe County One Thing Contributing to His Defeat.

(By United Press.)

Vincennes, Ind., April 9.—The nomination of Charles Hunt of Sullivan for Democratic representative from the second district was believed this afternoon to be assured as the result of complete unofficial tabulation of the vote from yesterday's primary.

His majority over W. A. Cullop is believed to be seven votes. The official vote may make some changes but it is thought to be correct. Hunt received 8,288 votes, to 8,281 for Cullop.

The tabulation by counties is as follows: Green county, Hunt 1,243; Cullop 1,399; Martin, Hunt 496, Cullop 765; Morgan, Hunt 793, Cullop 732; Owen, Hunt 661, Cullop 508; Sullivan, Hunt 2,069, Cullop 807; Daviess, Hunt 1,069, Cullop 970; Monroe, Hunt 958, Cullop 1,102; Knox, Hunt 1,089, Cullop 2,008.

Several factors are mentioned as being responsible for Cullop's defeat. Chief among them is the very tight vote in Morgan county and dissatisfaction with Cullop in Monroe county.

John Horace of Bloomington, who wanted the postoffice but was turned down for Oscar Cravens, was chairman in Monroe county and his following tore down his lead. A majority for Cullop was announced by his manager in Monroe county after the result in Knox and Daviess counties was known.

REBELS DESTROY BIG OIL PROPERTY

Report Received by State Department Today Says Loss of Half Million is Suffered.

SITUATION COMPLICATED

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 9.—The complete destruction by the Mexican Rebels of the Water Pierce Oil company's property at Tampico at a loss of half a million dollars was reported to the state department here today.

The department said: "Wireless reports indicate that the situation at Tampico as regards foreign properties is complicated and serious. The Waters-Pierce oil refinery has been occupied by the attacking forces during the last two days and was burned with a loss of $500,000."

Testing Silk.

The best way to test silk is to cut off a small piece and burn it. If it burns out quickly, leaving a clear, crisp, gray ash, the silk is pure, but if it smolders and leaves a heavy reddish brown ash it has been treated with chemicals and will not wear well.—Exchange.

STATE LEADS IN
Y. M. C. A. GROWTH

Indiana is Well Ahead of the Average in North America as Shown by Statistics.

GAINS 2000 IN YEAR 1913

Association Has Property Valued at Over Two Million Dollars—Report is Submitted.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 9.—That Indiana is well ahead of the average in North America in the growth of its Young Men's Christian Association is indicated by statistics contained in the pamphlet reviewing the forty-fourth year. The pamphlet is still on the press. The figures are for the last decade. Indiana has in that time gained 144 per cent. in paid membership, while the gain in North America has been 71 per cent. The largest gain has been in enrollment in educational classes. Indiana has gained 793 per cent. as against 148 per cent. for the average association.

The increase during the year 1913 has been steady and healthful, according to the state officials. In membership the gain has been over 2,000. In the last ten years the gain has been over 200 per cent. In active members the gain has been over 1,000 in the past year. The valuation of association buildings and other real estate has increased from $1,905,270 in 1912 to $2,360,171 in 1913.

One of the interesting features shown is the increase in dormitory rooms for members. The number has grown from 475 to 744 in the past year. This gain is largely a result of the dormitory annex built to the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. The beds of the railroad association alone were used 60,336 times in 1913. An indication of the number of meals served is seen in the recorded number of 683,159.

A unique contract is seen in the northern part of the state. Fort Wayne, with over 64,000 population, has no association, while Auburn in the adjoining county north with something over 4,900 is preparing within the next week to move into a new building just finished. This Auburn building is the pioneer plant in Indiana in a city under 7,000. It is considered a sort of experiment. In the report of the executive committee it is stated that "the world will watch the development of the Auburn association with keen interest" because the city is so small.

The report continues: "The dedication of this building will be the fifth during the first few months of 1914—a record unequalled in Indiana and doubtless in all other states."

"The only serious debt is on 27 Indiana Buildings, the report states, "has been at Lafayette. An insufficient amount of money was raised at the beginning of the city Association building enterprise, and the shrinkage of subscriptions, plus the accumulation of interest, brought the total building indebtedness at the close of 1912 up to $40,000. In November the very life of the association was threatened by the foreclosure of the principal mortgage. In consultation with the Lafayette directors, we arranged with the Evansville Association for the release of their general secretary. Mr. Mogge, to conduct a "white elephant" campaign in April, but the floods forced a postponement until June. In one of the hardest-fought campaigns in our history, a total of $51,000 was raised to cover the indebtedness and to provide for current expenses during the payment of subscriptions, thus freeing this association from a career of unprecedented usefulness and also heartening the Christian forces of the entire city. We assisted further in completing the strongest staff of executive officers that Lafayette has ever had." J. M. Davis is the general secretary.

The report congratulates the Indianapolis association on the dedication of its colored department building. This department has led the world for several years in membership, which now is 735. It has the following to say about the Muncie building.

"Well-posted Association visitors to the new Muncie building, now near completion, believe it will easily lead the world in cities of 30,000 and under. Governor Raiston made the principal address at the corner-stone-laying Memorial Day. Mention was made in our last report of the additional contribution of $50,000 by the Ball Brothers, their gifts thus reaching $150,000 making a total fund of over a quarter-million."

Crawfordsville will soon have a new building. There will be a supplemental campaign there in January, 1914 to raise $15,000 yet necessary to complete the building. This will bring the total resources up nearly to $100,000.

The state organization holds out no encouragement to a community that is not ready to provide a substantial fund at the start. It will not approve the remodeling of a business block at the expense of from $10,000 to $15,000, but insists that the first requirement of an association building shall be that it be ready for the whole range of activities. Six lines of expenses must be provided for. They are: lot, building (including income-producing features), architects fees, furnishings, shrinkage of subscriptions and the customary preliminary campaign. For this equipment and expense, from $75,000 to $100,000 is usually necessary, the report says.

And concerning Huntington the report says:

"For more than two years the Commercial Association at Huntington has led in urging us to organize a Young Men's Christian Association there but no initial offers were large enough to warrant launching a movement in rented quarters. Scarcely more than a few weeks passed before they appealed to us again, and we have helped them secure an experienced Association secretary to develop their organization into a regular Young Men's Christian Association, hoping that within a year or two a building project will mature."

MAYOR BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

Jos Bell Says Man Who Doesn't is Lost in Address to Advertising Club

VALUABLE BECAUSE OF NEWS

Every Phase of Industry is Considered By Speakers at Annual Meeting In Indianapolis

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, April 9.—"The man who doesn't advertise is the man who is lost," said Mayor Joseph E. Bell, of Indianapolis, speaking to the delegates to the convention of the Central Division of the Association Advertising Clubs of America and their guests at the Claypool hotel. The mayor was one of the speakers welcoming the convention to Indianapolis. He took occasion to say what he thought of the value of advertising. The central division includes Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio.

"Advertising is valuable because it is news," he said. "Many people buy a newspaper just to read the want ad columns or to see what the merchants have in stock. Everyone who wants to buy goes to the newspaper as naturally as the thirsty man goes to a well. It is a well of information."

The mayor said the advertisers not only were an aid to the buyers but that they furnished a liberal education as well. They tell one half of the world what the other half is doing, he said. He said that the public owes the advertisers for its newspapers and magazines, because they are supported by the advertising rather than by the subscription department.

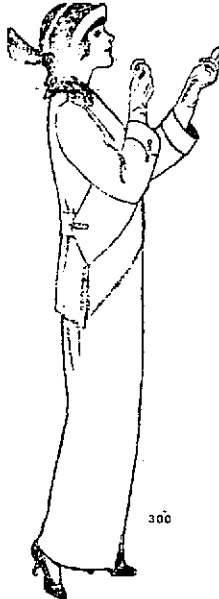

Probably 500 delegate and visitors were here today. Many business men or their advertising managers, not members of the association, attended to get the opinions of famous leaders in this field who are to attend the national executive committee meeting here Friday and Saturday. Among these on national committee to be here are Wm Woodhead, president, from San Francisco, and Samuel C. Dobbs of the Coca Cola company.

Every phase of the advertising industry will be considered by the various speakers.

CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Copyright, 1913, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER V.

MR. REYNOLDS did not come home to dinner at all. The water had got into the basement at the store, he telephoned, one of the flood gates in a sewer having leaked, and they were moving some of the departments to an upper floor. I had expected to have him in the house that evening, and now I was left alone again.

But, as it happened, I was not alone. Mr. Graves, one of the city detectives, came at half past 6 and went carefully over the Ladleys' room. I showed him the towel and the slipper and the broken knife and where we had found the knife blade. He was very noncommittal and left in a half hour, taking the articles with him in a newspaper.

At 7 the doorbell rang. I went down as far as I could on the staircase, and I saw a boat outside the door, with the boatman and a woman in it. I called to them to bring the boat back along the hall, and I had a queer feeling that it might be Mrs. Ladley and that I'd been making a fool of myself all day for nothing. But it was not Mrs. Ladley.

"Is this No. 42?" asked the woman, as the boat came back.

"Yes."

"Does Mr. Ladley live here?"

"Yes. But he is not here now."

"Are you Mrs. Pitcock?"

"Pitman, yes."

The boat bumped against the stairs, and the woman got out. She was as tall as Mrs. Ladley, and when I saw her in the light from the upper hall I knew her instantly. It was Temple Hope, the leading woman from the Liberty theater.

"I would like to talk to you, Mrs. Pitman," she said. "Where can we go?"

I led the way back to my room, and when she had followed me in she turned and shut the door.

"Now, then," she said without any preliminary, "where is Jennie Brice?"

"I don't know, Miss Hope," I answered.

We looked at each other for a minute, and each of us saw what the other suspected.

"He has killed her!" she exclaimed. "She was afraid he would do it, and he has."

"Killed her and thrown her into the river," I said. "That's what I think, and he'll go free at that. It seems there isn't any murder when there isn't any corpse."

"Nonsense! If he has done that the river will give her up eventually."

"The river doesn't always give them up," I retorted. "Not in flood time, anyhow. Or when they are found it is months later, and you can't prove anything."

She had only a little time, being due at the theater soon, but she sat down and told me the story she told after ward on the stand:

She had known Jennie Brice for years, they having been together in the chorus as long before as Nadjy.

"She was married then to a fellow on the vaudeville circuit," Miss Hope said. "He left her about that time, and she took up with Ladley. I don't think they were ever married."

"What?" I said, jumping to my feet, "and they came to a respectable house like this? There's never been a breath of scandal about this house, Miss Hope, and if it comes out I'm ruined."

If You Suffer Any Stomach Agony

Take Mi-o-na—Now—Perfectly Harmless but Acts Quickly and Effectively

When you feel nervous, blue, irritable, tired and dizzy—when you have headaches, sour stomach, heart burn and pains in the colon and the bowels—you are suffering from indigestion—you need Mi-o-na at once.

Mi-o-na is not a cure-all but a specific for stomach ills. It builds up and strengthens the stomach walls and glands, improves quickly the digestive system and assists nature to properly digest and assimilate the food thus insuring good health.

Do not suffer another day. Get a fifty cent box of Mi-o-na Tablets from F. B. Johnson & Co. Keep them with you constantly—they will help you get well and strong and immediate relief is sure. If not benefited Mi-o-na costs nothing.

"Well, perhaps they were married," she said. "Anyhow, they were always quarreling. And when he wasn't playing it was worse. She used to come to my hotel and cry her eyes out."

"I knew you were friends," I said. "Almost the last thing she said to me was about the black and white dress of hers you were to borrow for the piece this week."

"Black and white dress? I borrow one of Jennie Brice's dresses!" exclaimed Miss Hope. "I should think not. I have plenty of my own."

That puzzled me, for she had said it that was sure. And then I remembered that I had not seen the dress in the room that day, and I went to look for it. It was gone. I came back and told Miss Hope.

"A black and white dress! Did it have a red collar?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Then I remember it. She wore a small black hat with a red quill with that dress. You might look for the hat."

She followed me back to the room and stood in the doorway while I searched. The hat was gone, too.

"Perhaps, after all, he's telling the truth," she said thoughtfully. "Her fur coat isn't in the closet, is it?"

It was gone. It is strange that all day I had never thought of looking over her clothes and seeing what was missing. I hadn't known all she had, of course, but I had seen her all winter in her fur coat and admired it. It was a striped fur, brown and gray, and very unusual. But with the coat missing and a dress and hat gone, it began to look as if I had been making a fool of myself and stirring up a tempest in a teacup. Miss Hope was as puzzled as I was.

"Anyhow if he didn't kill her," she said, "it isn't because he did not want to. Only last week she had hysterics in my dressing room and said he had threatened to poison her. It was all Mr. Bronson, the business manager, and I could do to quiet her."

She looked at her watch and exclaimed that she was late and would have to hurry. I saw her down to her boat. The river had been falling rapidly for the last hour or two, and I heard the boat scrape as it went over the door sill. I did not know whether to be glad that the water was going down, and I could live like a Christian again or to be sorry for fear of what we might find in the mud that was always left.

Peter was lying where I had put him, on a folded blanket laid in a clothes basket. I went back to him and sat down beside the basket.

"Peter!" I said. "Poor old Peter! Who did this to you? Who hurt you?" He looked at me and whined, as if he wanted to tell me if only he could.

"Was it Mr. Ladley?" I asked. And the poor thing covered close to his bed and shivered. I wondered if it had been he and if it had why he had come back. Perhaps he had remembered the towel. Perhaps he would come again and spend the night there. I was like Peter. I covered and shivered at the very thought.

At 9 o'clock I heard a boat at the door. It had stuck there, and its occupant was scolding furiously at the boatman. Soon after I heard splashing, and I knew that whoever it was was wading back to the stairs through the foot and a half or so of water still in the hall. I ran back to my room and locked myself in and then stood armed with the stove lid lifter in case it should be Ladley and he should break the door in.

The steps came up the stairs, and Peter barked furiously. It seemed to me that this was to be my end, killed like a rat in a trap and thrown out the window, to float, like my kitchen chair, into Mollie Maguire's kitchen, or to be found lying in the ooze of the yard after the river had gone down.

The steps hesitated at the top of the stairs and turned back along the hall. Peter redoubled his noise. He never barked for Mr. Reynolds or the Ladleys. I stood still, hardly able to breathe. The door was thin and the lock loose. One good blow, and—

The doorknob turned, and I screamed. I recall that the light turned black and that is all I do remember until I came to a half hour later and saw Mr. Holcombe stooping over me. The door, with the lock broken, was standing open. I tried to move, and then I saw that my feet were propped up on the edge of Peter's basket.

"Better leave them up," Mr. Holcombe said. "It sends the blood back to the head. Half the — fool people in the world stick a pillow under a fainting woman's shoulders. How are you now?"

"All right," I said feebly. "I thought you were Mr. Ladley."

He helped me up, and I sat in a chair and tried to keep my lips from shaking. And then I saw that Mr. Holcombe had brought a suit case with him and had set it inside the door.

"Ladley is safe until he gets bail, anyhow," he said. "They picked him up as he was boarding a Pennsylvania train bound east."

"For murder?" I asked.

"As a suspicious character," he replied grimly. "That does as well as anything for a time." He sat down opposite me and looked at me intently.

"Mrs. Pitman," he said, "did you ever hear the story of the horse that wandered out of a village and could not be found?"

I shook my head.

"Well, the best wit of the village failed to locate the horse. But one day the village idiot walked into town leading the missing animal by the bridle. When they asked him how he had done it, he said, 'Well, I just thought what I'd do if I was a horse and then I went and did it.'"

"I see," I said, humoring him. "You don't see. Now, what are we trying to do?"

"We're trying to find a body. Do you intend to become a corpse?" He leaned over and tapped on the table between us. "We are trying to prove a crime. I intend for the time to be a criminal."

He looked so curious, bent forward and glaring at me from under his bushy eyebrows, with his shoes on his knees—he had taken them off to wade to the stairs—and his trousers rolled to his knees, that I wondered if he was entirely sane. But Mr. Holcombe, eccentric as he might be, was sane enough.

"Not really a criminal?"

"As really as lies in me. Listen, Mrs. Pitman. I want to put myself in Ladley's place for a day or two, live as he lived, if I can. I am going to sleep in his room tonight, with your permission."

I could not see any reason for objecting, although I thought it silly and useless. I led the way to the front door, Mr. Holcombe following with his shoes and suit case. I lighted a lamp and he stood looking around him.

"I see you have been here since we left this afternoon," he said.

"Twice," I replied. "First with Mr. Graves, and later—"

The words died on my tongue. Some one had been in the room since my last visit there.

"He has been here!" I gasped. "I left the room in tolerable order. Look at it!"

"When were you here last?"

"At 7:30, or thereabouts."

"Where were you between 7:30 and 8:30?"

"In the kitchen with Peter," I told him then about the dog and about finding him shut in the room.

The washstand was pulled out. The sheets of Mr. Ladley's manuscript, usually an orderly pile, were half on the floor. The bed coverings had been jerked off and hung over the back of a chair.

Peter imprisoned might have moved the washstand and upset the manuscript. Peter had never put the bed-clothing over the chair or broken his own leg.

"Humph!" he said. And, getting out his notebook, he made an exact memorandum of what I had told him and of the condition of the room. That done, he turned to me.

"Mrs. Pitman," he said, "I'll thank you to call me Mr. Ladley for the next day or so. I am an actor out of employment, forty-one years of age, short, stout and bald, married to a woman I would like to be quit of, and I am writing myself a play in which the Shuberts intend to star me or in which I intend the Shuberts to star me."

"Very well, Mr. Ladley," I said, trying to enter into the spirit of the thing and, God knows, seeing no humor in it. "Then you'll like your soda from the icebox?"

"Soda? For what?"

"For your whisky and soda before you go to bed, sir."

"Oh, certainly, yes. Bring the soda. And—just a moment, Mrs. Pitman. Mr. Holcombe is a total abstainer and has always been so. It is Ladley, not Holcombe, who takes this abominable stuff."

I said I quite understood, but that Mr. Ladley could skip a night if he so wished. But the little gentleman would not hear to it, and when I brought the soda poured himself a double portion. He stood looking at it, with his face screwed up, as if the very odor revolted him.

"The chances are," he said, "that Ladley—that I—having a nasty piece of work to do during the night, would—will take a larger drink than usual." He raised the glass, only to put it down. "Don't forget," he said, "to put a large knife where you left the one last night. I'm sorry the water has gone down, but I shall imagine it still at the seventh step. Good night, Mrs. Pitman."

"Good night, Mr. Ladley," I said, smiling, "and remember, you are three weeks in arrears with your board."

His eyes twinkled through his spectacles. "I shall imagine it paid," he said.

I went out, and I heard him close the door behind me. Then, through the door, I heard a great spluttering and coughing, and I knew he had got the whisky down somehow. I put the knife out, as he had asked me to, and went to bed. I was ready to drop. Not even the knowledge that an imaginary Mr. Ladley was about to commit an imaginary crime in the house that night could keep me awake.

Mr. Reynolds came in at 11 o'clock. I was roused when he banged his door. That was all I knew until morning. The sun on my face awakened me. Peter, in his basket, lifted his head as I moved and thumped his tail against his pillow in greeting. I put on a wrapper and called Mr. Reynolds by knocking at his door. Then I went on to the front room. The door was closed, and some one beyond was groaning. My heart stood still, and then raced on. I opened the door and looked in.

Mr. Holcombe was on the bed, fully dressed. He had a wet towel tied around his head, and his face looked swollen and puffy. He opened one eye and looked at me.

"What a night!" he groaned.

"What happened? What did you find?"

He groaned again. "Find?" he said. "Nothing, except that there was something wrong with that whisky. It poisoned me. I haven't been out of the house."

So for that day at least Mr. Ladley became Mr. Holcombe again, and as such accepted ice in quantities, a mustard plaster over his stomach and considerable nursing. By evening he was better, but although he clearly intended to stay on, he said nothing about changing his identity again, and I was glad enough. The very name of Ladley was horrible to me.

The river went down almost entirely that day, although there was considerable water in the cellars. It takes time to get rid of that. The lower floors showed nothing suspicious. The papers were ruined, of course, the floors warped and sprung and the doors coated with mud and debris. Terry came in the afternoon, and together we hung the dining room rug out to dry in the sun.

As I was coming in I looked over at the Maguire yard. Molly Maguire was there and all her children around her, gazing. Molly was hanging out to dry a sodden fur coat that had once been striped brown and gray.

I went over after breakfast and claimed the coat as belonging to Mrs. Ladley. But she refused to give it up. There is a sort of unwritten law regarding the salvage of flood articles, and I had to leave the coat, as I had my kitchen chair. But it was Mrs. Ladley's beyond a doubt.

I shuddered when I thought how it had probably got into the water. And yet it was curious, too, for if she had had it on, how did it get loose to go floating around Molly Maguire's yard? And if she had not worn it, how did it get in the water?

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Indiana People Find Quick Relief From Stomach Trouble

First Dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy Gives Most Surprising Results.

Hundreds of Indiana people have found relief from stomach troubles by the use of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy.

This remedy is safe and efficient. The first dose gives results. And the treatment is not long. It has a wonderful record.

Here are the statements of two who have used and proven the merit of the remedy:

Charles Inman, 424 East Chestnut Street, Hartford City, Ind.—"Four doctors said they could not cure me unless I went to Fort Wayne to be operated on. I took your treatment. In three weeks I went to work and haven't missed but a half day since."

Walter Spray, 1911 South Second Street, Frankfort, Ind.—"Before I took your medicine I suffered a great deal, but since I took the first dose I have not had a bad spell."

I feel it is even more than you claim."

Letters like this come from all over the country. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy produces results. The first dose proves it.

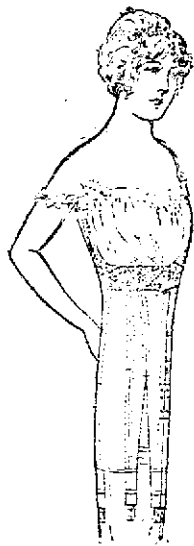

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's Mayr's. Go to Frank E. Wolcott's drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

Mrs. Washington Hood was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Ayres and family, at Shirley, from Friday to Sunday.

Mr and Mrs. Joel G. Carson of Rushville attended church at Plum Creek Sunday.

As the Rev. Mr. Grisso was holding a meeting in Virginia, he sent the Rev. Mr. McMurray to fill his place at Plum Creek last Sunday. Although just a student, he pleased the crowd immensely.

John Hall continues to improve and hopes are entertained that he will soon be able to get out to his work again.

Dannie Newkirk and family entertained a few of his relatives Saturday evening.

A play was given Saturday evening at the Raleigh hall by the high school pupils. It was very much appreciated by the crowd.

Ben Ertle and family entertained a few of their neighbors Thursday evening.

Miss Sadie Broadhead of Rushville was the guest of Miss Florence Nipp a few days this week.

Will Whitton and family entertained Sunday for dinner Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smalley of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Linna Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riffey and daughter Lillian.

Several of the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Black, who now live at Raleigh, went in Friday night and reminded them of his birthday. A good time was reported by those who were there. Refreshments were served and, of course Ben never refuses to give the best he has in music.

New poles are being erected between Raleigh and Gings by the telephone company.

John Blessinger was the guest of Edmund and Vern Bell last Sunday.

Obituary.

Dr. Charles L. Rea was born at New Castle, Indiana, August 10th, 1859, and died at his late residence in Falmouth, Indiana, April 5th, 1914, aged 54 years, 7 months and 25 days.

He was the son of Dr. John Rea and Mary E. Remby Rea, late of New Castle, Indiana.

Dr. Charles Rea received his preparatory education in the common schools of New Castle, and in early life studied law in the office of the late Exum Saint of that city, until he was fully prepared to commence the practice of that profession; but before doing so he made a temporary sojourn in the then Territory of New Mexico, and returning from thence to New Castle, he abandoned his purpose to pursue the legal profession, and at once took up the study of medicine with his father.

After completing an office course of instructions and study, he took a regular course in medicine at the Ohio Medical College, Cincinnati, and was graduated as a physician from that institution in 1884.

He first established himself in the practice of his profession at Rogersville, Henry county, Indiana, and remained there until 1891, when he relocated at Falmouth, Rush county, Indiana, where he continued to live and practice until ill health, and finally death, closed his career.

He came of a family, the early members of which left the name indelibly marked in the annals of this immediate part of Indiana, and if any of their descendants left the farm to engage in any of the professions, they uniformly became physicians.

Dr. John Rea of New Castle, father of Dr. Charles Rea, was an eminent pioneer physician of the old school. He left two sons, Dr. George Rea, now deceased, and the subject of this sketch, to follow him in the profession; and Dr. Clarence Rea of Muncie, Indiana, son of the above Dr. George Rea, still holds to the line of professional descent.

Dr. Charles Rea was possessed of an inherently studious, observant and contemplative mind, which was aided by a retentive memory for the infinite mass of technical data and knowledge necessary to the successful practice of his profession.

These natural qualities gave him almost intuitive powers as a diagnostician—a branch of the profession in which he early received high credit and compliment while in college.

The writer of this sketch, after a number of years of intimate association with him, and unusual opportunity to observe his natural characteristics, feels warranted in venturing the estimate, that had Dr. Rea seen proper to cease his professional work under favorable conditions for wide and varied observations and experience in diseases, he would have developed the highest qualifications in his profession.

However, his retiring disposition, and his entire freedom from any taint of ostentation, led him by choice to cast his lot and professional life in rural communities, where he found most congenial conditions in living close to the people, and where he secured and richly merited the esteem and confidence of all, and gave in return the full measure of his devotion in cheer to the healthy, and alleviation to the sick and suffering.

"The elements were so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world: This is a man."

On November 30th, 1898, Dr. Rea was married to Mrs. Lillie M. Gray, who survives him, and to whom the sympathy of this community in her bereavement, goes out in one accord.

His home life was pure; and the devotion of himself and his wife to each other brought to each its full reward, and the genial hospitality, which was ever extended from their home, was a benediction to all who knew them.

He died childless; but several years ago he took into the care and nurture of his home the child whom he christened Harry E. Rea, and to him he rendered the full measure of a father's love and solicitude.

Besides his immediate family, his two sisters, Elizabeth Gelles and Frances Rea, of New Castle and his nephew Dr. Clarence Rea of Muncie, and his niece Rhoda Marsh of Niagara Falls, N. Y., survive him.

Of Dr. Rea it may approximately be said:

"Life's fitful fever is over. He sleeps well."

Richmond, Indiana

"12th Year of Successful Manufacturing"

"12th Year of Successful Manufacturing"

MOTOR CARS

DAVIS MOTOR CARS for the coming season cover a line so broad that most every individual requirement is represented. "DAVIS CARS" range from the choice of the most fastidious, in a Big Six-cylinder Car fitted with either five or six-passenger bodies, at the buyers option, to the Serviceable Small Car that bears the brunt of business usage, but still retains that distinctive refinement and individuality that suits it, also, for family use.

The "DAVIS" 6-50 for 1914

The "DAVIS" Six-50 for 1914 is equipped with the world famous Continental Motor, which, at a conservative rating, develops 50 Horse Power, and under test as much as 64 Horse Power. This motor is modern in every respect, having a long stroke, the new check balanced crank-shaft, silent chains, and many other features which bring it far above the average. The Continental superiority was proven to us in exhaustive tests, carried on over rugged mountains of Pennsylvania, the Gumbel districts of Illinois and Iowa, and the speedy boulevards of the larger eastern cities. Our agents in New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, etc., are intensely enthusiastic over our "speed and power."

In many ways we are harder to convince than the most particular patron, because our reputation and success is dependant on the performance of our product. The motor vehicle is likened to a chain, (no stronger than its weakest link) and therefore we see to it that "DAVIS" links are of the strongest.

The Warner transmission is built in perhaps the best equipped factory for the manufacture of transmissions in the country, and, with millions of capital behind them, they furnish a transmission that is hard to obtain elsewhere. Warner transmissions in "DAVIS" cars are equipped with important annular ball-bearings, and under all the tests that we have been able to devise the "gear box" has made itself a minor factor through its uncomplaining service.

"DAVIS" cars are also equipped with Weston-Mott axles, which are as good as can be purchased in any market, and together with the double annular ball-bearing, make a car that seems to glide instead of run. The bearings furnish so little friction that the car may be easily pushed forward or back by hand.

The Gray & Davis starting and lighting devices, Mea high tension magneto, Sheldon Springs, and in fact, all the Standard Material and parts that are used in the best motor practice will be found in the DELIGHTFUL DAVIS DESIGN.

"DAVIS" Six-50, Five passenger --- $2,150.00
"DAVIS" Six-50, Six passenger --- $2,185.00

The Next "DAVIS" in Size is the Powerful 4-50 A

which has proven its worth in the past and will continue to do so. We feel safe in saying that this particular car did as much toward making "DAVIS" reputation as any other part of our institution.

In all important features the 405-A is similar to the 6-50; the motor, however, having four cylinders with a bore of 4½ and a stroke of 5½ inches. The motor develops an unusual amount of power at a medium speed and accelerates with such a dash and vim that it has surprised even the most experienced of the "Motor Wise." We offer the 4-50 A, fully equipped with either five, four or two passenger bodies at $1,985.00

Model 35-J, Five passenger --- $1,335.00
Model 35-K, Two passenger Roadster $1,335.00

Then the "DAVIS" 35 J

which is a small "four-cylinder" car and fitted with either five or two-passenger bodies at the same quotation.

The motor has a bore of 3½ and a stroke of 5 inches which shows upon the face of it a guarantee for economy in operation.

Again the Weston-Mott axles are used and, together with many other features, this model offers the public a surprise when it is compared with other cars of similar price.

Under recent tests this motor developed 35.7 actual brake horse power, which, considering its small size, is a remarkable performance. In every respect this motor follows modern tendencies toward large dimensions and is designed to run at unusually high speeds.

The Westinghouse combination magneto and generator together with their starting device is only associated with cars of much higher price. The name "Westinghouse" alone is an adequate guarantee of satisfaction and service.

It will be noticed that the entire "DAVIS" line is made up of distinctively new and modern designs. Our own conservative taste is combined with the latest Stream-line practice abroad, making a line of cars that carry beauty and grace to the latest issue.

Ask Rush County Owners About the "Davis" Cars

All prospective buyers of motor cars in Rush County should appreciate the opportunity that we offer them of buying their car of one of Richmond's oldest and most reliable manufacturers of motor cars. A large number of these cars are running in Rush County and we should be greatly pleased to have you make inquiry of any owner of "DAVIS" cars.

There are many advantages to be considered in buying your car direct from the manufacturer—we are only a few hours drive from your door, which affords you many advantages in the way of being favored with our services which we extend to all of our customers and users of our cars. We would be pleased to have any prospective buyer of a car visit our factory, let us get acquainted and show you our finished product as well as just how our various models are manufactured and let us lay our proposition before you, or, in the event it is not convenient for you to visit our factory if you will write us we will be pleased to mail you our illustrated catalog and have our factory salesman call upon you in a demonstrating car at your home and when you have had any one of these models demonstrated to you, you will readily appreciate the difference in the general appearance and the distinctive styles as well as the real value of a Continental motor equipped car.

"QUALITY COUNTS"

"Quality Counts", is the "DAVIS" slogan, and it has been used by the manufacturers of "DAVIS" cars since our earliest models were being considered.

Out of an open market the Continental motor was adopted because of its years of experienced and consequent prestige. Continental quality is beyond denial and there is no longer any one so foolish as to offer objections to this or that feature about the Continental design.

It is interesting to know that Continental motors are all tested, before leaving the factory in a sound proof room, made of eight inch walls. It is the silent test under extreme working conditions, and the motor's work is carefully watched, and an accurate record is made by the "dynometer." No possible noise of operation can escape notice, so the motor must prove itself a perfect mechanism.

Silent motors are saving in power and upkeep. More—silence is a guarantee against friction and it takes amazing exactness in machining, down to the one-ten-thousandth of an inch, to eliminate friction. This insures for the motor a long life of satisfactory service.

Over 80,000 users are loud in their praise for Continental, and thousands more have been contracted for to be used in the coming season.

Listen to the next "DAVIS" you see and you will be surprised at the sweet-running motor, transmission and axle. In our axle you will hear none of the disagreeable hum and roar that are experienced in many other makes.

"DAVIS CARS" are clean cut and every provision is made to take up the wear that naturally comes into all cars. For this reason all annoying rattles and squeaks are eliminated and you may be sure of a smooth operating and noiseless car even after years of service.

We think it is only fair to every one that they may know and understand what our slogan "Quality Counts" means, when a new car is being considered.

If you will call and inspect our factory and car, we feel sure you will be interested in our 1914 models.
